County Medical Report

Medical Indigent Plan Is Success; Free Help Provided Those Unable to Pay

The unique medical indigent plan put into effect for the first time anywhere by Pettis County last year became an $11,000 operation, according to a report just released by Miss Roseanne Dugan, director of the county office of the state department of welfare.

The $11,000 was the amount of free assistance given to the medical indigent in the county through the cooperation of the county court, Bothwell Hospital, the Pettis County Medical Society, three local drug stores and the welfare department.

The county court paid more than $7,000 for hospitalization of 131 people who needed treatment but could not afford it.

The court also paid a little more than $2,600 for the services of a physician designated by the Medical Society for indigent people without a family physician, in addition to the care of the Buena Vista Home guests and of the county jail inmates.

There was also $988 spent for prescribed medicines furnished by the Sedalia Drug Store, Bard's Drug Store and the Hurr Pharmacy at a cost plus 5 per cent rate. Some 490 prescriptions were written for 161 people.

Another $171 went for orthopedic appliances for four people, and $135 for laboratory, ambulance and surgical service.

The entire program has proved so successful that it is being continued without hesitation.

It all began a year ago, when the county court, recognizing the dire need for medical aid for persons unable to meet this expense, called a meeting to discuss plans to provide a way of offering free medical service.

At the meeting were Judge Frank Monroe, presiding judge, Judge E. L. Birdsong, Judge Edw. Callis, Miss Dugan, Dr. Pete V. Siegel, president of the Medical Society, and James F. Franks, manager of Bothwell Hospital.

Out of this meeting arose the plan now in operation. Its success led Proctor N. Carter, state director of welfare, to write Miss Dugan that it is "an unusually fine program and certainly a forward step in the handling of medical problems for indigent persons. I hope a similar plan might be placed in effect in some of our other counties, if cooperation of all parties involved could be secured as appears to be the case in Pettis County."

The plan provides services of a county physician recommended by the Medical Society and paid on a fee basis by the county court for all persons who do not have a family physician.

It also provides hospital facilities for persons needing such care. Patients entered by their own family physician under the medical indigent plan continue to be treated by him with no cost to the county. The cost of the hospital treatment is paid by the county court and substantially reduced rates are secured from the Bothwell Hospital management. The best service is provided.

The drugs are purchased practically at cost from the three local drug stores named.

And plans for indigent medical care are made through the director of welfare, who certifies the need for county financial assistance and recommends payment of expenditures to the county court. This is a volunteer service.

The successful operation of the plan has been attributed to the wholehearted cooperation of the participating agencies and it was their decision to continue its operation.

G. R. Janssen Files For County Sheriff

G. R. Janssen, of the Janssen Motors, filed for Pettis County sheriff on the Republican ticket Friday, Jan. 13, in the county clerk's office.

'Salute Ike' Guest Speaker Is Attorney

Banquet To Be Held Next Friday Night At S-C Cafeteria

Richard M. Webster, Carthage, will be the guest speaker at the "Salute to Eisenhower" banquet which will be held at the Smith-Cotton High School Cafeteria on Jan. 20 at 6:30 p.m. Mrs. J. F. Schumacher is the arrangements and program chairman for this dinner and she promises a very interesting evening.

Webster is a young attorney from Carthage who has been practicing law in that city for the past eight years. He has a very unusual talent as a public speaker.

He served in the Missouri State Legislature for seven years at which time he served as Republican caucus chairman. In 1954 he was elected as the speaker of the House of Representatives. In 1949 he was the president of the Missouri Federation of Young Republicans.

Mrs. Herbert Seifert, decorations chairman, will have some very unusual decorations at the banquet.

The salute chairman, Mrs. George Miller, announces that the highlights of the evening will be the opportunity of those present to sign a scroll which will be sent to President Eisenhower.

There are still some tickets available and anyone who has not been contacted should get in touch with Hugh Jones at 4977, W. D. Smith at 647 or with Hazel Palmer at 22.

Jury Decides Woman At Lebanon Was Slain

LEBANON, Mo., Jan. 14—A Laclede County coroner's jury decided today that Mrs. Kathryn Young, 26, Kansas City, was shot to death Thursday by "a person or persons unknown."

The young mother of five children was wounded in a resort cabin in Camden County and died shortly afterward in a Lebanon hospital.

Her husband, Charles E. Young, 35, Kansas City postal clerk, and his friend, Frederick L. Minnick, 28, Kansas City, are being held at Camden on charges of first degree murder.

Ex-Wabash Engineer Dies of Heart Attack

MOBERLY, Jan. 14—(AP)—Ira O. Isle, 73-year-old retired Wabash engineer, died yesterday, apparently of a heart attack while driving to Brunswick.

His body was in his car which had gone off the road and stopped. Survivors include his wife and two sons, Stan Isle, a member of the staff of the Moberly Monitor-Index, and E. J. Isle, Jacksonville, Ill.

NEW LITTLE MERCHANTS—Three young businessmen listen to a comment about the press on which their product is printed. Left to right they are Dickie Horner, Ronnie Mulberry and Kit Taylor. These boys began running their own business this morning—delivering The Sedalia Democrat to their customers. Joe Forsee, circulation manager of The Democrat, points out a plate on the press. Dickie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Horner, 1321 West Main. Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mulberry, 1120 West Second, and Kit is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Taylor, Jr., 1120 West Second. All three boys are in the seventh grade at Mark Twain School where they are regulars on the mid-December, while Ronnie and Dickie are just beginning their newspaper careers. They will be collecting on their routes beginning Friday. A large amount of their success on their first business venture depends on their customers. (Democrat-Capital photo)

Accepts Petition For Ike

Name Will Appear On Primary Ballot In New Hampshire Unless Withdrawn

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 14—(AP)—A telegram was sent late today to President Eisenhower in Washington advising him that "petitions which appear to qualify" his name to be placed on the ballot, March 13, in New Hampshire's preference primary have been filed.

The message was sent to the White House by Harry E. Jackson, deputy secretary of state of New Hampshire after he accepted petitions filed by Maurice Grant, Manchester automobile dealer.

Earlier Jackson had ruled one of two petitions filed by Grant was invalid because it lacked the necessary 50 valid signatures. Grant then filed a new petition with 56 signatures which were ruled valid. A second petition with 76 signatures was ruled valid earlier by Jackson.

In order to enter a person's name as a candidate the petitions must have 50 valid signatures from each of the state's two congressional districts.

The President's name will appear on the ballot at the first-in-the-nation primary unless he signifies his desire to withdraw his name within 10 days.

In Washington, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerity said there would be no comment on the telegraphic notification over the week end.

"We probably will take a look at it next week," he said when informed the telegram had been sent to the President by the New Hampshire deputy secretary of state.

Last Thursday, when informed that Gov. Lane Dwinell would file similar petitions next Monday morning in Concord, Hagerity said he anticipated that if the President was notified "the notification will be answered by the President."

Should the President permit his name to remain on the ballot, it might be construed as indicating Eisenhower's willingness to seek a second term.

The White House indicated earlier this week a statement would be issued if the President's name was officially listed. A reliable source told The Associated Press the White House would approve keeping the President's name on the ballot.

Gov. Dwinell, leader of the Eisenhower camp in this state said earlier he would file petitions for Eisenhower Monday morning.

Dwinell said he will go through with the filing plans although it will not be necessary in view of Grant's action.

Wide Range of People Answer Education Board Advertisement

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14—About 150 persons, some as far away as California and Massachusetts, have answered the St. Louis Board of Education's newspaper advertisements for teachers.

The unusual advertising appeal to meet a teacher shortage started last Sunday with display ads in the two St. Louis daily newspapers.

School officials, who said they were encouraged by the response so far, said about 35 persons have come to the board office to fill out application forms for teaching certificates.

Inquiries about the situation came from 14 states.

The advertisements, believed to be the first run by a major school system, urged graduates of liberal arts colleges to apply for teaching jobs here.

Seventh Annual Edition—It's Time To Send Favorite Recipes To The Democrat

It is time again for those who have favorite recipes to write them down and send them in for the Sedalia Democrat-Capital's seventh annual recipe edition, which will be published on Sunday, Feb. 19. Recipes must be addressed to the Recipe Editor, Sedalia Democrat-Capital, Sedalia, Mo., and in the office not later than Feb. 4.

This edition has become something looked forward to each year by the women and their families, too, for that matter, for always following this edition there is a period of real feasting in the homes of most of the subscribers. For several weeks the family will have new and varied dishes on the table, because, whether she really likes to cook or not, the housewife is sure to try some of them. The women pore over the new recipe section and pick out those that sound best to them, then try them.

Because of the tremendous number of recipes sent in last year, so many that a number of the later ones that came in had to be omitted, each person is requested to send in only five recipes. The Democrat-Capital would like as many people as will to contribute to the 1956 Recipe Edition and be certain to select the recipes that are real favorites of the families and friends.

Even though a recipe you think is especially good has been printed in a previous edition, do not hesitate to send it in again because the much used recipe sections get torn and sometimes lost. Also, someone who never noticed it in the other editions may see it in this one and be able to enjoy it.

In copying a recipe please write on only one side of the paper, check to be sure of the measurements of the ingredients and have your name and address at the top, the name of the recipe beneath it, and then the recipe.

There are ten classifications: 1. cheese, eggs and special dishes; 2. preserves, pickles, relishes, canned goods; 3. vegetables; 4. salads, soups, sauces, sandwich spreads; 5. meat, poultry, fish; 6. beverages; 7. breads, rolls, muffins, waffles; 8. candy and cookies; 9. desserts, ice cream, pastries, pies; 10. cakes and icings.

—Judges: Mrs. Evelyn Cox, Mrs. Marie Green; clerks, the Rev. L. P. Parker, Mrs. Louise Jackson.

—Judges: Guy Brownfield, Mrs. Elmer Lane, Mrs. Dick Keenan; clerks, Mrs. Albert Dirck, Mrs. Finnis Withers.

—Judges: Mrs. Ray Dirck, Mrs. Herbert Young, Mrs. Allen Cowherd; clerks, Mrs. H. G. Berger and Mrs. Robert T. Phelan.

Washington — Judges: Mrs. E. Phillips, Mrs. Ralph Hamlin, Mrs. Eugene Miller; clerks, Mrs. Daisy Parker and Mrs. J. M. Stotts.

Whittier — Judges: Mrs. Ray Dirck, Mrs. Herbert Young, Mrs. Allen Cowherd; clerks, Mrs. H. G. Berger and Mrs. Robert T. Phelan.

Dr. Earl Loyd Will Be Medical Forum Speaker

Dr. Earl L. Loyd, president of the Missouri Heart Association of Jefferson City, will be the guest speaker at the Pettis County Medical Forum Tuesday evening in the Little Theater at Smith-Cotton High School. His topic for discussion will be "Learning to Live With Your Heart."

Dr. Loyd will discuss briefly the physiology and anatomy of a normal heart and then point out just how various diseases affect the heart. He will show that in spite of the fact that a heart may be severely and extensively damaged by disease processes, one may get along very well if he can only learn to live with his heart. Real and imaginary symptoms of heart disease will be discussed with emphasis on how the average person can tell the difference. Once the diagnosis of heart disease has been established and its extent and severity determined, treatment will be considered, with particular emphasis on the two most common types of heart disease, coronary and hypertensive.

Following the formal discussion, the forum will be open for questions from the audience.

The Pettis County Medical Forums are sponsored by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital and presented by the Pettis County Medical Society in the public interest. There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

SEATTLE, Jan. 14—The new Boeing Intercontinental 707 jet stratosphere transport will be able to circle the earth in less than 40 hours' flying time with a full payload and only five stops for fuel, the Boeing Airplane Co., said today.

Three Sedalians Attend Shrine Election

Ike Goldberg, Oma Cox and William Matthews went to Kansas City Wednesday where they attended the annual election of the Ararat Shrine at which time Roy P. Swanson was elected Potentate.

Expect Eden To Inquire Of US Policy

Dulles Statements On 'Brink of War' Alarm the British

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—(AP)—Prime Minister Anthony Eden of Britain, is expected to try to find out in talks here this month whether an Eisenhower "peace policy" or a Dulles "brink of war" strategy is guiding the behavior of the United States.

British sources have expressed alarm over statements by Secretary of State Dulles in an interview with Life magazine. The magazine quoted him as saying his practice of the "necessary art" of going up to the "brink of war" without becoming involved had blocked Red China in the Korean, Indochinese and Formosan crisis in 1953 and 1954. Dulles confirmed yesterday that the quotations were correct in substance.

The article, which claimed tremendous successes for Dulles' diplomacy, set off criticism at home and abroad.

But a number of Republicans in Congress came to Dulles' defense today. Sen. Knowland of California, Republican leader, said critics had misrepresented Dulles' remarks. Knowland asserted that the secretary of state "is not advising that we go to the brink of war as a policy."

What Dulles was trying to point out, Knowland said, is that potential enemies may restrain themselves if they realize there is a point beyond which the United States cannot be pushed.

Knowland took issue with Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.), who said Dulles' public account of recent history is "diametrically opposed" to testimony Dulles gave in secret to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"I don't think Secretary Dulles misrepresented the situation before the committee," Knowland said.

Fatally Hurt In Car Crash In Independence

William E. Coffman, 26, Independence, was fatally injured early Saturday when the car he was driving struck a concrete abutment on U. S. highway 24 at Arlington Avenue in Independence.

Coffman suffered fractures of both legs and skull fracture in the accident shortly before 3 a. m. and died about thirty minutes later at the Independence Sanitarium.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Coffman, of Knob Noster.

Pay-As-You-Steal Plan Put Into Operation

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A new pay-as-you-steal plan for thieves youngsters has been worked out in juvenile court.

Judge Louis H. Jull said yesterday the youths are going to have to put down cash for everything they steal.

He started his new policy by ordering two 15-year-olds to begin work to earn $108—the value of loot they took from a school break-in.

4-H District Tractor Clinic To Be Held In Sedalia Feb. 2-3

On Feb. 2 and 3, the 4-H tractor maintenance leaders from surrounding counties will meet at the Wahnebrock implement Co. to participate in the 11th annual series of tractor clinics for 4-H project leaders. These clinics are conducted cooperatively by the Missouri Agricultural Extension Service, The Standard Oil Co. of Indiana and local implement dealers and their company representatives. This clinic is one of six that being conducted throughout the state.

Safety is one of the foremost considerations of these clinics and one session will be devoted to safety. Other sessions will cover operation, what makes an engine run, oiling and lubrication, clean air for the engine and a run-down on all the units of the 4-H tractor maintenance project. The 4-H tractor program stresses "better care, not repair."

AP Correspondent, Wife Are Imprisoned

VIENNA, Austria, Jan. 14—(AP)—Radio Budapest announced tonight Andre Marton, a correspondent of the Associated Press in Communist-ruled Hungary, has been sentenced to six years in prison on a charge of espionage. His wife, Ilona, who worked for the United Press there, was sentenced to three years, the radio said.

Ellender Requests Three Big Changes In Ike's Farm Bill

Wants 'Mandatory Participation' By Farmers in Soil Bank Plan, Supports Rise, Rice Experiment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14—(AP)—Storm signals rose in the path of the administration's farm bill today with Sen. Ellender (D-La.) calling for three major changes.

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee now in control of the proposals, came out for:

1. "Mandatory participation" by farmers in the vast soil bank proposal to remove 45 million acres from cultivated farm land.

2. An upward shift in farm price supports for the best quality wheat, cotton and other basic crops.

3. A trial of the two-price system on rice, one of the six basic crops.

The senator outlined his ideas in a speech recorded for radio use in his home state of Louisiana, station WWL, New Orleans.

They contrasted sharply with broad outlines suggested by President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson during the past week.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), also a committee member, said the administration proposals would give farm prices and income "not one, but four or five shots in the arm."

Mundt cited additional millions of dollars proposed for farmers through gas tax refunds, soil bank payments, government port purchases and additional funds for milk for school lunches.

"Altogether this will open up a number of new teller windows where farmers, caught in the recent price-cost squeeze, can pick up some badly needed cash," Mundt said.

Sen. Olin (D-SC), another member of the Agriculture Committee, said the Republican proposals appeared to be a belated bid for farm votes in this election year. He questioned that the effort would succeed.

Ellender said "unfortunately, there is a feeling in some quarters that the present furor over relief for American agriculture is nothing more than election-year propaganda."

"They are dead wrong," Ellender said, adding "the smaller farmer, the family farmer, in particular, is in dire economic straits."

For this reason, Ellender said he believed the soil bank proposal to take 45 million acres out of production "would be more effective if participation were made mandatory."

He suggested that farmers be required to retire a certain part of their acreage allotment for cotton, wheat, and corn in order to get government price supports in addition to the soil bank payments.

Secretary Benson has rejected this proposal, saying the soil bank could operate "without compulsion."

Ellender asked a farm price support schedule "which will flex upward for more desirable commodities" and downward for lower qualities.

Benson also opposed this, saying it might amount to government price-fixing on quality crops and could refill warehouses the new program aims to empty.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 14—(AP)—Former President Truman said tonight the American farmer is in a mess created by President Eisenhower and his secretary of agriculture, Ezra Taft Benson.

Accusing the Republican administration of following a deliberate policy of driving farm prices down, Truman said the "distress" of the rural population was not inherited. "He (Benson) didn't inherit it. He and I made it ourselves," Truman said in a speech prepared for a dinner honoring Gov. Orville Freeman and sponsored by the Democratic Farmer Labor State Central Committee.

Speaking with deep sarcasm and in the "give 'em hell" tradition of his campaign speeches in 1948 and '52 he reminded his audience he had said any farmer who voted Republican should have his head examined.

"I am sure you believe that now," he said tonight.

"I don't have to argue about it any more," he continued. "Over all, farm prices were 101 per cent of parity in 1952. Now they are 80 per cent."

And he contended the farmer could expect nothing better from a Republican administration.

"These men are dominated by the big business point of view and are out of sympathy with the needs of agriculture. They love International Harvester and General Motors but they are rather cool to the old dirt farmer."

"Of course an important election is coming up. As a consequence the Eisenhower administration is going to say a lot of things and make a lot of gestures in a desperate effort to hide the record of what they have done in the last three years. To my mind this attitude smacks a little of death bed repentance."

Equipment For Still Confiscated In Raid In Pemiscot County

PORTAGEVILLE, Mo., Jan. 14—(AP)—Ninety-six quarts of "moonshine" whisky and equipment to operate a still were confiscated during a raid in Pemiscot County last night.

George J. Liebig, district supervisor for the Missouri Department of Liquor Control, said federal, state and local officers surrounded the home of Willard McBroom on Wolf Bayou six miles south of here.

Armed with a search warrant, the officers recovered the whisky from McBroom's house. Liebig said, and located the still in another building behind the house.

Liebig said McBroom, taken to the Pemiscot County jail at Caruthersville, would be charged with the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor without a license.

A quantity of mash for the 250-gallon capacity still was destroyed by the agents during the raid. Equipment confiscated included a low pressure gas tank, copper tubing, a barrel and an automobile radiator which agents said was used as a condenser for the illegal whisky.

INSIDE STORIES

With all the news about Grace Kelly and the Prince of Monaco being engaged, it seems only natural to wonder what Monaco is really like. For the answer, turn to Page 8, Section 2.

Benjamin Franklin, one of America's most outstanding citizens, was born 250 years ago. An article about him is on Page 14, Section 1.

Peter Edson, Washington columnist, explains on Page 8, Section 1, why farmers can expect to do some fancy figuring if the proposed soil bank program is put into effect.

Thought She Was Getting a Newspaper

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The woman thought a newspaper popped right out for you when you pulled that lever in the box on the utility pole.

But instead of getting a copy of the Charleston Daily Mail, the unidentified woman at Dryden and Bullitt Streets got three screaming fire engines yesterday. The newspaper dispensing bag hangs on a utility pole just below the fire alarm box.

Will Proceed With A-Tests, But Reduced

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is going ahead this spring with more atomic weapons tests in the Pacific. Apparently heeding outcries from abroad, however, it will tone down the nuclear blasts.

In what amounted to an official rejection at this time of demands that all the big powers quit testing nuclear weapons, the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department announced last night:

1. Preparations are under way for a series of nuclear tests to begin this spring at the Eniwetok proving grounds in the Marshall Islands of the mid-Pacific.

2. Because there are no "effective international agreements" in effect to limit or control armaments, the United States must continue to endeavor "to maintain the most modern, efficient military strength for the purposes of peace."

3. The tests will involve use of weapons for which the power will be "substantially below that of the maximum 1954 test." This reference, in a supplementary statement by AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss, was to the superpowerful blast of March 1, 1954.

That explosion, unofficially estimated to have been equal to energy released by the detonation of about 17 million tons of conventional TNT, brought trouble. Radioactive material falling out from the bomb cloud drifted outside the proclaimed safety zone. It descended on a Japanese fishing boat. The Japanese said the crewmen developed radiation sickness. One died. In nations like India and even in some aligned in common defense with the United States, including England, there were protests against further tests.

The joint AEC-Defense Department announcement said that one important purpose of the new series, while using only "weapons generally smaller" than that of the 1954 test shot, still will be powerful. Only weapons too big for safe use at the continental test site in Nevada are used at the Pacific proving ground.

Many Brain Strokes Can Be Prevented

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Many crippling and fatal brain strokes apparently can be prevented by wise use of anti-blood-clotting drugs.

The drugs are bringing encouraging results against brain strokes caused by formation of blood clots blocking main arteries to the brain. They cannot help against strokes due to other causes, such as the blow-out of weakened arteries in the brain.

Dr. Clark H. Millikan and Dr. Robert G. Siekert began using the drugs on patients suffering from special types of strokes. These strokes bring numbness, staggering gait, weakness, sometimes temporary paralysis of the eyes or limbs, slurred speech, unconsciousness or other troubles.

Some persons have several such strokes a day, or several a week. Without treatment, many die within a short time when a severe stroke hits.

These strokes apparently come because blood clots are building up in either the basilar artery, supplying the brainstem with blood, or the carotid artery which runs up through the side of the neck.

Autopsy studies showed that fatal clots in these arteries have a layered appearance, as though they had been built up gradually in layers.

The Mayo neurologists reasoned that each little stroke might be due to temporary interference in blood flow to the brain as the clot increased in size with a new layer. Anticoagulant drugs might prevent growth of the clots. If the clot blocks the artery completely, death or severe and permanent damage results.

Dr. Millikan and Dr. Siekert report promising results from daily or regular use of heparin or dicumarol, the same anticoagulants often used in treating heart attacks caused by blood clots.

In a number of patients, the little strokes stopped completely with no further trouble. Other patients showed great improvement. The drugs have been used to date on 53 patients, with only 14 per cent succumbing to strokes. But in another 23 persons not given the drugs, nearly half have since died from strokes.

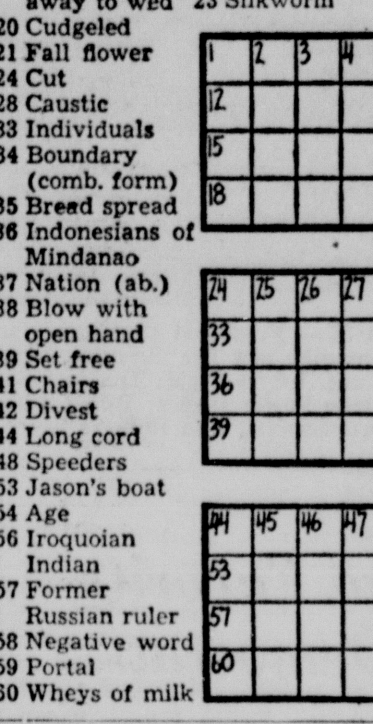

The studies are continuing.

Classroom Additions Started In Leeton

Raymond Carney, Lincoln, was contracted to construct four additional classroom rooms to the Elementary School in Leeton, and has begun work. It is hoped the work will be completed by this summer.

3,613 Miles Of Highways Are Improved

The Missouri State Highway Commission spent or obligated the spending of $73,181,093.61 on state highways during the 1955 calendar year which ended Dec. 31. During the year the Commission carried out or contracted for improvements and construction of 3,613 miles of those state highways.

A total of $39,770,894.32 of the funds spent or obligated during the year went into construction activities. Of the remaining commitments $9,369,153.71 went for right of way purchases, many of which are for projects yet to be advertised, $3,623,549.85 for contracts on survey work and preparation of plans in order to be better prepared for any increased federal aid construction program, and $417,505.73 for various other expenditures tied to the year's work.

Highway improvements made or contracted for during the year extended over 363.8 miles of major system routes and 3,249.2 miles of supplementary roads. The supplementary work included 2,698 miles of construction on the regular supplementary system and 552.2 miles of conditioning work done on existing county roads which the Commission has taken over for maintenance as temporary state routes under terms of the 10-year state highway modernization and expansion program.

Major system improvements made during the year included: 167.1 miles of high type bituminous surfaces; 96 miles of portland cement concrete pavement surfaces; 95.3 miles of low bituminous surfaces; 4.7 miles of graded earth; and about 0.7 mile of granular surface.

Supplementary work has included:

Boy Scout District Committee Meets

The Pettis Boy Scout district committee met last night at the Chamber of Commerce. Two Scouting sponsors had their representatives there: the Rev. Reinhardt from Sacred Heart Catholic Church and L. C. Heurman from St. Paul's Lutheran Church. Both have active Scout units. February 6-12 is Scout Week, and all units are urged to have dinners or appropriate ceremonies.

The tentative Camporee date is May 4-6; the outstanding patrols there will be eligible to participate in a council-wide Camporee June 2-3. The main item of business was completing "Plan Books" for the different committees—1955 record and 1956 goals. With definite objectives clearly stated, considerable progress is expected this year, especially in program quality.

In addition to Rev. Reinhardt and Heurman, C. A. Phillips, Bill Hurlbut, Jr., Paul Anthes, Ray Rodick, Fred Bennett, Roy Kline and J. W. Kraus attended. The different committees will operate independently until Feb. 9, when they will again combine at the district meeting.

A layer of gravel on top of your window boxes will prevent the rain from splattering your windows with dirt.

ed: 1,329.1 miles of low type bituminous surfaces; 1,034.9 miles of crushed stone or gravel surfacing; 57.7 miles of oil of earth surfacing; 6.3 miles of portland cement concrete pavements; conditioning, which includes ditching, blading, surface additions, etc., on 552.2 miles.

Tipton Man Seeks Lions Governorship

At a ladies night meeting Monday, the Tipton Lions Club announced the candidacy of J. A. Conn for the office of Governor, District 26-B. The announcement party was at the American Legion Home, which was gaily decorated in the club colors, with table settings of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

A dinner was served to the 41 members and 57 guests in attendance.

Following the dinner, Norman welcomed the visitors and ladies and introduced Al Martin, program chairman, and master of ceremonies for the evening.

Martin asked the secretary to read letters from Lions Governor F. P. Brewster, Jr., Springfield, and from International Counsellor, Chester Balmer, Jefferson City. He then read the endorsing resolution for Conn as district governor at the annual convention in Kansas City in June.

The first speaker introduced was International Counsellor, Joe Knollmeyer, Linn, who spoke of his associations with Conn through offices in the district.

International Counsellor Fred Bommer, Eldon, spoke briefly of the history of the Tipton Club since its beginning in 1942, and told of the participation of Conn in all the activities since then. His work as secretary for 11 years was among the most efficient in the entire state.

Next introduced was State Secretary V. H. Bradshaw, Jefferson City. He told how he was able to observe all clubs in the state and to see their work and pointed out reasons why the district here, 26-B, had always ranked with the best.

Other guest speakers were Deputy Governor J. L. Stevenson, Stover, and Past Deputy Governor Gilbert Morgan, Gravois Mills.

The attending past presidents of the Tipton Club were introduced: W. W. Wisdom, Jr., F. J. Gerbes, Fred Schmidt, Dr. H. P. Stonner, Albert Wolf, Virgil Helms, Al Martin, C. M. White, Harry Kolker, and Nelson Norman. Each man responded with a few remarks about his experiences in the club, and the part Mr. Conn had played.

Martin then introduced Deputy Governor Conn, who was enthusiastically applauded as he stood before the speaker's stand. He thanked the club for all it had done for him and expressed his gratitude for evidences of confidence in this meeting.

Kansas Girl Wins Motion Picture Theatre Award

Miss Judy Jones, 17, high school senior of Minneapolis, Kansas, was awarded the $1,000 prize offered by motion picture theatre owners in the Kansas City exchange territory (covering Kansas and the western half of Missouri) for her entry outlining her reasons for selecting winners in the recent Audience Awards poll conducted by the nation's motion picture theatres.

Miss Jones' selections were precisely the same as the winners in the national poll. They were: Jennifer Jones, best actress; James Dean, best actor; Peggy Lee, best new feminine personality; Tab Hunter, best new male personality; "Mr. Roberts," best picture.

Contestants for the $1,000 local award who made the same selections were required to compete in a tie-breaking contest by submitting letters outlining their reasons for their selections. Miss Jones' entry was adjudged the best.

The judges were Landon Laird, amusement editor of the Kansas City Star; Ben Shlyon, publisher of Boxoffice magazine; Ben Johnson, director of women's activities, radio and television station KMBC; and Donald D. Davis, vice-president of KMBC. The judges' decision was unanimous.

Miss Jones participates in many school activities, is a member of the band, a cheer leader, on the staff of the high school annual and works evenings after school and on Saturdays for a Minneapolis business concern. She is an attractive blond and plans to attend Kansas University. She commented that the $1,000 award was "better than a scholarship."

Farm Youth and the Bond Issue

There is no doubt that the most valuable crop grown on Missouri farms are the farm youth. While we are not faced with a surplus we are faced with some dire situations to provide educational facilities for those desiring higher learning. Every child deserves a chance for an education; not only for the sake of the child, but for the sake of the nation. We need trained people to help solve the problems of the growing population in the years ahead. Part of the money in the bond issue is to be used to provide buildings and equipment for the state colleges and universities. These institutions must be better equipped to meet the needs of their respective areas and of the entire state of Missouri.

The act authorizing the state bond specifies that the funds be used for buildings and equipment at educational, penal and eleemosynary state institutions. The act specifies that the money can not be used for any other purpose. The act also provides that both the principal and interest be paid with proceeds from the present state income tax. The plan is that these bonds will be paid off without any tax increase.

Evaluate the bond issue and cast your choice at the polls on Tuesday, Jan. 24.

New 4-H Programs for 1956

Robert Clough, MU extension state club agent, has announced several changes in the 4-H National Awards program for 1956.

One of the significant developments is a new trip to National Club Congress. In 1956, the National 4-H Frozen Foods award program offers an all expense trip to Club Congress as the state award. Formerly the state award has been a bond. Also, four county medals and six national scholarships are given. The Whirlpool Seegar Corporation of St. Joseph, Mich., is the new donor.

Anyone enrolled in food preservation and does a part of the preserving by freezing is eligible for this program.

There has been a change in the National 4-H Achievement awards whereby funds are provided by the donor, the Ford Motor Co., for a trip to Congress. Here's the set up:

Every county may submit the records for their achievement boy and their achievement girl. The awards: County—four medals of honor for blue award group in the county. State—one trip to Club Congress. National — 12 college scholarships of $300 each.

Achievement is one of the three programs that former delegates to Congress may enter. A state boy and a state girl will be selected. Both will be considered for the national scholarships but only one will receive a trip award.

Three demonstration awards have been restored to the Soil and Water Conservation program sponsored by Firestone. These are for top individual demonstrator and both members of the top conservation demonstration team selected at State Achievement Day. No winners will be selected unless they are of blue ribbon rank.

These demonstration awards are in addition to awards given in 1955 which were:

County—four gold filled medals.

State—trip to Club Congress.

National—eight college scholarships.

It might be well to mention a program that was offered for the first time in 1955—the Boys' Agricultural program sponsored by International Harvester Co. This program parallels the Girls' Record Program. A girl may choose to take work in clothing, foods, and home management projects without specializing in any one. Girls' record is for her.

Likewise, Boys' Agricultural program is for the boy that has had some livestock, crops, agricultural engineering, and other projects without specializing on any one. A boy who is building a herd of livestock, producing the feed to feed them, and constructing buildings to house them would like this program.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Covey. Covey is office manager for the National Cash Register Co., in Anchorage, but will transfer to Kansas City in March.

Red Cross Notes—County Chapter Holds Regular Board Meeting

The regular board meeting of the Pettis County Chapter was held at the office Thursday morning with the following attending: John Ryan, chairman; Mrs. Harold Dean, Claude Boul, Harry Naugel, Joe Ruddick, Miss Nettie Lamm, Mrs. T. H. Yount, Mrs. Herbert Zoernig, the Rev. T. W. Croxton, George Yeaman, Mrs. H. A. Hite, Miss Mary Elizabeth Tevebaugh, Oscar Major, Mrs. Henry Menefee and Mrs. Eula R. Spencer. E. A. Goodwin, field director at White-man Air Force Base, was a special guest. Routine business was discussed and the chairman appointed Maurice Hogan, Miss Nettie Lamm and Everett Stevenson to serve on the nominating committee.

A capping ceremony will be held today at 2:30 p.m. at the base chapel. Mrs. John Bryant and Mrs. Robert Corson, Gray Ladies, and Mrs. Ralph Calton, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Keith Yount, Mrs. Abe Rosenthal, Mrs. Frank Hugelman, Mrs. Don French and Mrs. J. F. Schumacher, Staff Aides, have completed their training and will receive their certificates and pins and be capped. Mrs. Harold Dean, volunteer field consultant, will be in charge of the ceremony.

R. R. Conn and R. R. Conn, Jr., will teach a class in first aid at Sunnyside School, beginning Jan. 16 at 7 p.m., with meetings to be held Monday and Thursday evenings.

On Wednesday evening, Jan. 18, Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Griffith, Jr., Robert Zink, Chris Morehead and Julian Riding will go for their skill test at the Warrensburg pool, according to Henry Sutton, chairman of water safety, who will give the test. This is required before they can take the instructor class beginning Jan. 23 in Warrensburg.

Nobody Sure Jack Williams Ever Existed

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., Jan. 14 (AP)—Is it true that Jack Williams "done his damndest"?

Does he lie in rocky Boothill Cemetery here among a company of Arizona badmen and respected pioneers?

Did a long-gone headboard on his grave carry the "done his damndest" epitaph?

Controversy over these questions was fanned from a flicker to a flame a few years ago by former President Truman.

And it is expected to break out again when Truman visits Tombstone, the old frontier mining town which boasts it is "too tough to die."

The former President plans to be in Arizona late this month or early in February. He wants to take a look at Boothill Cemetery, the stark resting place of many desperadoes who died with their boots on.

In April 1952, after announcing he would not seek re-election, Truman referred to an epitaph he said was on a Boothill grave:

"There are probably a million people who could have done the job better than I did," he said, "but I had the job and I had to do it, and I always quote an epitaph on a tombstone in a cemetery in Tombstone, Ariz.:

"Here lies Jack Williams. He done his damndest."

It's hard to say whether the immediate uproar was due to politics or love of historical accuracy.

Old-timers took sides on whether Jack Williams actually was buried in Boothill and whether the epitaph ever was there.

Mayor Wally Foster of Tombstone and the President traded letters on the subject. Foster told Truman that no such grave ever existed. Truman retorted that the mayor was a headline hunter.

A short time later a group of citizens erected a marker in Boothill with the Jack Williams inscription. County officials ordered it removed but vandals beat them to it.

"Tombstone does not have to manufacture history," says Mayor Foster. "I do not deny there was a Jack Williams marker put in the graveyard. I do deny, however, that it had any business there. All research to date indicates Williams was not buried there."

But Frank A. Krupp Sr. of Nogales, Ariz., says he recalls seeing the epitaph on a weather-beaten board in the cemetery in 1904.

Mrs. Jessie Robertson of Bowie, Ariz., says she took a picture of the headboard in 1948 but when she returned later she couldn't find it.

The cemetery lies just to the north of the town of Tombstone, once the rip-roaringest and richest mining camp in the West.

In the early 1880s, Tombstone was headquarters for a hell-raising crowd of miners, cowboys, gamblers and gunslingers. Six-shooters barked day and night and the need for a graveyard became immediate.

In those days, even the worst of the badmen had a dread of going to their maker with their boots on. When one fell mortally wounded, he or his friends would try to pull his boots off before he passed on.

But many went out with their boots on and were buried wearing them. That's how Boothill Cemetery got its name.

As Tombstone's heyday waned and law and order replaced the gun and the rope, the old graveyard fell into disrepair. Weeds covered the mounds of the 259 graves in the burial ground and the headboards rotted and fell away.

Boothill was restored by pioneer residents of Tombstone. They searched through ancient records and called on the memories of oldtimers and descendants of early

Otterville Bank Has Stockholders' Meeting

The annual stockholder's meeting for the election of directors of The Bank of Otterville, Otterville, Mo., was held Jan. 9. The following directors, J. H. Gunn, Leo J. Smith, Earl Steele, and J. H. Parsons were re-elected, and Ralph J. Ayres was elected a director in lieu of T. E. Wherley, resigned.

At the organization meeting held Jan. 10, for the election of permanent officers, the following were elected: J. H. Gunn, president; Leo J. Smith, vice-president and chairman of the board; Ralph J. Ayres, cashier; Mary E. Homan, assistant cashier; and J. H. Parsons, secretary of the board.

residents to identify the graves. Not all of the graves in Boothill are those of outlaws. Mrs. John P. Clum, wife of the famed Indian agent and onetime mayor of Tombstone, rests there. The most elaborate grave is that of Mrs. Ah Lum, who was affectionately known as China Mary. Near-prior of the Can Can Cafe.

In the hubbub over the authenticity of Truman's favorite epitaph, the principal in the case—Jack Williams—casts but a faint shadow.

One old-timer, who spent his boyhood in Tombstone during its by lies Quong Kee, who was procuring days, says he dimly remembers that Williams was a lawyer.

But he says he hasn't the slightest idea what Jack Williams was supposed to have done his damndest about.

It's High Time For a Happy Romantic Era

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—It's high time for romantic era, in the opinion of David Gottlieb, a designer who has managed to create a sensation in the New York fashion industry in a comparatively short time.

The cocktail and evening dresses in his spring preview definitely dramatic, planned frankly for allure and designed to make any woman feel like a dream girl. He uses such fragile and delicate fabrics as chiffon, lace, net and silk organdie for these creations, often combines lace bodices with clouds of frothy organdie in bouffant skirts, does tricks with lace appliques and sprinkles stardust in the form of sequins.

A highlight of his collection is a short evening dress of white net, appliqued all over with red lace roses and dramatized with a wide sash of red taffeta. As contrast, he shows a slim tube of lace tiers, bisected by a velvet belt.

Gottlieb likes white frosting for his daytime dresses in navy silk, dealing out wide capelet collars of lace and embroidered organdie with a lavish hand. These collars form dramatic accents to dark costumes, and he froths them with lace edging, elaborates them with appliques, sparks them with jewels, does them in double tiers and otherwise concerns himself with frosted frills.

Visiting fashion editors winding up a crowded week of spring fashion previews by New York designers also saw a showing of children's clothes today, observed new fashions in eyeglass frames and were given a concentrated briefing on the trends in jewelry for 1956—the "precious" look is the thing this year, they were told, and the bold ropes of beads of last season now are passe.

Lake Ozark BSA Operating Groups Meet In Tipton

The operating committees of the Lake of the Ozarks Council of Boy Scouts met in Tipton Tuesday, for their first quarterly meeting of 1956. A total of 33 men were in attendance at these meetings.

Reports were heard from Edgar T. Ward, Lake Ozark, Council finance chairman, on the results of the 1956 finance drives. Ward's report indicated that the entire budget had not been underwritten. The group decided that efforts would be made to balance the budget by April, 1956.

Julius Stohr, Sedalia, reported that the record shows an increase of slightly over 100 new boys this year.

In a divided meeting each operating committee made plans to further the Scouting program in the Council for the year 1956.

The following announcements were made of future activities: On Jan. 20 at the Governor Hotel in Jefferson City representatives from all over the state of Missouri will meet to plan the formal launching of the new four-year program (Onward For God and My Country). Another date given the men was the Council Annual Charter Review meeting which will be held in Jefferson City on Wednesday, Feb. 8. Detailed plans will be furnished later. The board's attention was called to the regional annual meeting which will be held in Denver April 8-9. Harry L. Miller and Charles Bailey were appointed co-chairmen to promote attendance at this meeting.

Those in attendance from Sedalia were: Dr. L. S. Geiger, Jake Krause, Julius Stohr, C. A. Phillips, Cline Cain, Abe Silverman, Ray Rodick, Paul Anthes and Louis Linn.

Sumter, South Carolina, was the first city in the United States to adopt the commission-city manager form of government.

Leap Year

It's Leap Year, and the ladies, fair,
Are looking here and looking there
For the answer to a maiden's prayer.

And when we stop to think it o'er
Why should this year scare men more
Than the other three of every four?

For when a woman sees her man
She starts to scheme and starts to plan
And she will get him — if she can.

This year the women may advance
And really find their own romance,
The fellows just don't have a chance.

For when a girl decides: "He's mine,"
She gets him helpless on her line
By putting him upon a shrine.

At first he thinks she wants to play,
He glories in the things she'll say,
And then he tries to get away.

Upon her finger is his ring,
She's taken care of everything,
Too soon the wedding bells will ring.

Then he finds, when it's too late,
He's swallowed her hook, line and bait
And wakes up to his wedded fate.

Whether it's leap year or whether not
He will fall for her little plot
And go on griping about it a lot.

Now once in awhile he's sorry, it's true,
But really such times are very few;
Without his wife he's in a stew.

For a man can't resist a woman's charms;
When he finds himself in her soft arms,
No matter what, his heart just warms.

'Tis Leap Year, quite a year for those
Who are wanting a man and on their toes,
He's bound to forget and sorta doze.

Not enough men, girls, you'd better scurry
And pick out a husband in a hurry
Or you'll be an old maid — without a worry.

British TV Viewers Shocked by Statement

LONDON (AP)—An erudite bow-tied archaeologist shocked British TV viewers last night by telling them in a husky voice that he'd like to murder a few million of them.

A spokesman for the British Broadcasting Corp. hastily explained that the professor, Dr. Glyn Daniel, 41, of Cambridge University, had influenza and was feeling "pretty ill under the studio lights."

Dr. Daniel, voted one of Britain's top TV personalities last year, was presiding over the highbrow quiz game Animal, Vegetable, Mineral?

The object is for three experts to identify and give the origin of archaeological specimens. Showing a sheaf of poisoned arrows—identified correctly by the experts—Dr. Daniel remarked in a cold voice: "There are a few million people I would like to kill—mostly viewers."

WAFB United Fund Drive Starts Monday

Communities surrounding Whiteman Air Force Base won't be getting year-long contributions to individual charities from this Strategic Air Command installation this year as in the past. Instead, a Base United Fund Drive for the year 1956 has been approved that will consolidate all fund-raising campaigns into one. The drive begins Jan. 16.

The air base's drive is being held now because at the time the regular United Fund campaign was conducted, the wing was overseas. The base will participate in the drive annually.

Each member of the 340th Bomb Wing, 340th Air Base Group, tenant units and civilian employees are being asked to contribute one day's pay to the drive. If the expected 100 per cent participation is reached, the base will have collected approximately $25,000 during the seven-week campaign that ends March 1.

The base campaign is being conducted exactly like those United Fund Drives in civilian communities and industries across the nation. It is designed to enable base personnel to support all charitable organizations with a single donation. Each contributor will receive a membership card which will relieve him of the responsibility of contributing to other charities throughout the fiscal year, except on a voluntary basis.

The total will be divided on a percentage basis among nearby communities and national charities. Those communities which have a United Fund Drive of their own will receive their share of the base funds through that agency. Other communities will either receive the money through their Community Chests or the directors of their local charities.

Money raised in the Base United Fund will go to Sedalia, Warrensburg, Knob Noster, LaMonte and Windsor. National charities which will receive donations include the American Red Cross, American Cancer Society, National Heart Association, Salvation Army, Cerebral Palsy and Muscular Dystrophy.

Sedalia Girl Will Perform In Premiere

A Sedalia student at the Texas State College for Women, Denton, Tex., Mary Jo Case, is one of the first soprano voices chosen to sing in a world premiere performance of "Stabat Mater," a music composition by Hungarian composer Ernst von Dohnanyi. The composition, written for two treble choirs and orchestra will first be heard Jan. 16 in Wichita Falls Memorial Auditorium.

Performing groups are the TSCW Modern Choir, Denton Civic Boys' Choir, and the Wichita Falls Symphony Orchestra, directed by Erno Danielli, a former student of Dr. Dohnanyi.

"Stabat Mater" is the only work ever written for two treble choirs and orchestra, according to Dr. J. Wilgus Eberly, director of the TSCW Modern Choir and music department. The music was commissioned three years ago from Dr. Dohnanyi, resident composer at Florida State University, from George Bragg, director of the professionally seasoned Denton Civic Boys Choir.

Music is based on the text of a 14th century hymn and was written for Thursday before Palm Sunday. It is to be performed as one of four numbers of a memorial program dedicated to Mozart's 200th anniversary by the Wichita Falls Symphony.

Miss Case is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey B. Case, 1016 West Tenth.

High-heeled shoes are said to have been introduced by Catherine de Medici, wife of Henry II of France, and her heels were about an inch high.

Officers Elected By Green Ridge Presbyterian Church

The following officers were elected at the January family night supper and congregational meeting of the Green Ridge Presbyterian Church, Jan. 11: elders, Nannie Sims, Charley Upton, Waldo Harbit; trustees, John Butterfield, Mrs. Edna Ryan, Russell Lewis; Sunday school superintendent, Earl Hinken; assistants, Floyd Egbert, Waldo Harbit; treasurer, Mrs. L. H. Wadleigh; deaconess, Mrs. Floyd Egbert; Mrs. Loy Smith; pianists, Mrs. L. B. Beach, Miss Shelley Morrow; choir leader, Mrs. F. Egbert; vacation church school superintendent, Miss Freddimae Fiene; Lord's Acre chairman, E. H. Boltz; Mrs. Wilma Eckhoff and William Heibner.

After the supper, the 1955 reports were read and the 1956 budget approved.

Mrs. Connor Heads Sedalia GSA Council

Mrs. J. Gregory Connor has been elected president of the Girl Scout Council of Sedalia, and Mrs. G. G. Hopkins, immediate past president, becomes vice-president. Mrs. Porter Robb was elected secretary and Mrs. Emory Bowman re-elected treasurer.

A new board member elected is Mrs. Bertram Ruskin and re-elected are William K. Gibson and Mrs. J. M. Bailey. New committee members elected are Mrs. James Labahn, Mrs. Dick Sklar and Mrs. Van G. Jones.

Mrs. Connor, in setting forth the objectives of the new board, states that she and every member of the Council will strive to provide a program in scouting that will show to the public what a big part Scouting can and does play in the moulding of the youth of today. Volunteers are needed for the task ahead, but Mrs. Connor is optimistic that to believe, to belong and to build will become a privilege and not a task and that the realm of Scouting in Sedalia will be so enlarged that every girl desirous of the experience in Girl Scouting can be offered that chance.

The existing members of the Sedalia Council of Girl Scouts are: Mrs. E. F. Yancey, lifetime honorary member, Mrs. Harold Baundestel, Mrs. W. C. Mathieson, Charles Maggard, Mrs. Virgil Kitchen and Mrs. William T. Sims, board members. Mrs. Roger Fuller, Mrs. Abe Silverman and Mrs. P. Cecil Owen, committee members.

New members will be announced as the growth and needs necessitate.

An exploratory meeting into the possibility and feasibility of an Area Council for Sedalia and surrounding councils was held Tuesday in the home of Mrs. W. C. Mathieson, 901 West Broadway, with representatives from Marshall, Boonville, New Franklin, Versailles and Sedalia. Miss Anna Zellick of the National Field Staff of Girl Scouts presented the proposed area plan. Future meeting dates for further interpretation will be announced.

State Dept. Presents Its Highest Employee Award In History

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—The State Department presented the highest employee award in its history today—$1,000—for the invention of a lock which will enable it to keep a tighter hold on its secrets.

The award went to Raymond L. Stegmaier, technical security officer.

He invented a device which, the department said, insures the security of certain four-drawer three-way combination filing cabinets which had not been very dependable because of erratic locking mechanisms.

As a result, the department said, it will be able to save for further use 3,000 file cabinets which would have had to be replaced. And this, it said, will save about half a million dollars.

The department has ordered 10,000 of Stegmaier's locks at 12 cents each.

Bartman, 83, who died Thursday in a St. Louis hospital, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the James Funeral Home in Concordia with the Rev. O. E. Heilmann officiating.

He was survived by: one son, Lester Bartman, Oakland, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. Noah Bryant, Ft. Madison, Ia., and Mrs. Laura Cassing, Concordia; and one brother, Arthur, Booneville.

Burial was in St. Paul's Cemetery in Concordia.

Miss Lottie Bray

Funeral services for Miss Lottie Bray, 97, who died at her home, 617 North New York, Thursday evening, were held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

The Rev. Henry Hansen, pastor of the Booneville Street Baptist Mission, officiated.

Mrs. W. L. Lewis sang, "No Night There" and "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Mrs. Duane Ewing at the organ.

Palbearers were Carl Bennett, Walter Pummell, Edwin Jones, Charles Smethers, George Burnett and John Wells.

Burial was in the Crown Hill Cemetery.

Student Council Is Directing Its Efforts To Help Sell Proposed School Bond Issue

By Bob Mason and Nancy Oswald
The Student Council of Smith-Cotton High School, seeing the need for more and improved facilities to meet the growing enrollment of the high school, has undertaken to direct its total efforts for the next four or five weeks toward a large scale campaign, working toward the passing of the two proposed school bond issues to be voted on in a special election Feb. 7.

Plans are in definite form as committee chairmen and their members will soon begin their assigned duties. It is the plan of the council to head the drive and to do as much as it possibly can to see these two bonds passed.

At the present time, the music program in Smith-Cotton is suffering from very crowded conditions. One of the major problems in this department is the lack of attention which can be given to individuals or to small groups. In the proposed physical education and music building several practice rooms, together with the large classroom and the stage which would allow the band, orchestra, and glee clubs to rehearse at one time, would permit a full-scale program in music to be offered to every student in Smith-Cotton.

Another problem is the lack of space for the storage of musical instruments. At the present time students must keep their instruments in their lockers, which often results in loss or damages. In the proposed building, adequate space is allotted for storage of band uniforms and instruments.

With the increasing number of students coming into Smith-Cotton in the next few years, many who are already beginning their study in music, Smith-Cotton should be prepared to meet them with the best possible facilities.

Also at the present time there are many inadequacies in the physical education department. Students in the physical education classes, which are required, are unable to participate in any recreation more than three times a week. On days that they are able to go into the gymnasium, they are only allowed to participate in play approximately six minutes. This will come out to a figure of approximately 18 minutes of physical education per week.

The reason for the lack of time allowed is the small size of the recreational area. Only two teams are able to participate at one time thus cutting down on the playing time of the individuals.

If the new building, which will be built if the bond issue is passed and equipped as specified, there will be ample room for a more adequate program. There will be a regulation softball diamond and one-tenth-mile track, and three new basketball courts will be provided, making room for six basketball teams to play at one time. This increase in room will provide the required time students should have for their physical education classes.

Besides physical education, a great many more necessary and important additions will be made. More classrooms will be provided, and this will enable the school to handle the much greater enrollment which is coming within the next five years.

With the addition of more classrooms, it will provide space needed to offer new courses which have long been offered in other public high schools. It will be entirely possible to set up a high school ROTC program for interested students. An agricultural program could also be offered. At the present time Smith-Cotton offers absolutely no courses dealing in agriculture. With the new buildings, a class of instruction could be provided in which students could learn about the mechanics of automobiles and other preparatory subjects beneficial to them in post-school life.

The council feels that construction of this building could mean a great deal to the businesses of Sedalia. Sedalia would be able to attract different conventions, and as can be easily seen, this would bring much more business to Sedalia in the form of housing, which would lead to further business advances.

The grade schools of Sedalia will also receive needed improvements and additions under the bond grant. The bond will provide for repairs, new additions, and an entirely new grade school to be built in the west sector of Sedalia. Some of the grade schools at the present time are becoming uncomfortably crowded and only so much room can be provided.

The people of Sedalia must realize that the saying "Youth of today is America's future," is completely true and that educational facilities must be provided to meet necessary requirements.

On all street corners on Ohio Saturday were stands operated by Smith-Cotton students. These stands were part of a "Peanuts for Polio" program. Peanuts were sold any price per bag and the entire amount of money collected will be turned over to the annual Polio drive. There were approximately 84 students participating.

The following students left on a debate trip on Wednesday to go to Concordia for a three-round debate contest against St. Paul's College High: Mary Hall, Ronnie Hoppes, Bonnie Lazenby, Marvin Lawson, Rosalie Moore, James White, Mike Wertz, Wayne Brown, Floyd Evans, Roy Gwinn, Patty Luckey, Mary Ruth Mittelhauser, Patty Moore, Tony Welch, Janice White, Jerry Brown, Warren Cheatham, Jerry Fox, Benji Hill and Jim Rice.

A Bible Club meeting was held Wednesday afternoon in Room 215. Everyone was invited to attend. All those entered in the "Bible Contest" were urged to be there as further steps were to be taken in preparation and presentation.

The Smith-Cotton chapter of the Future Homemakers met Jan. 12. A motion was made to have a candy sale in the front hall of the school Feb. 1. Mrs. Maddox then made several announcements. She urged everyone to enter the wool contest this year. She also explained ways in which points can be earned for letters. Mary Ruth Mittelhauser volunteered to have a game for the February meeting. A demonstration on how to make a sandwich loaf was given by Julia Ford and Noma Paine. Their picture was taken by Miss Tuck and Janice Ringen.

Velma Dickman showed and explained the inside of her house which she made in home economics. Refreshments were then served.

A senior high school assembly was presented Wednesday morning. The program consisted of pantomimes of hit tunes and songs by many teen-age favorites. On the program were Jim Swafford, Benny Miller, J. L. Ellison, John Bohon, Deanie Perkins, and Ronnie Hoppes with his band.

The annual March of Dimes campaign is now under way in home rooms at Smith-Cotton. At the present time, results of the drive seem to be satisfactory.

Over 100 high school debaters took part in a tri-state debate tournament which was held at North Kansas City, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 6 and 7. The number of high schools represented were one from Omaha, Nebr., six from Kansas and 20 from Missouri.

The Smith-Cotton debate team was composed of Wayne Brown, Tony Welch, Janice White, and Ronnie Hoppes, who defeated the four Missouri teams from Cassville, North Kansas City, St. Paul's College High, and McBride of St. Louis; but lost to the two Kansas teams from Atchinson and Wyandotte. Wayne Brown received the highest individual rating for Smith-Cotton which was an E minus.

Junior Rotarians for the month of January are Bob Bates and Jerry Greer. Bob is the drum major of the band and president of the Smith-Cotton chapter of the National Honor Society. Jerry is now vice-president of the Senior Student Council.

The Spiz Club held its bi-monthly meeting after school Monday, Jan. 9. It was decided they would go to the Clinton basketball game Jan. 31. This will be the only basketball trip that the club will make as a body.

A full page picture of Judy Rissler who is a student at the University of Missouri, Columbia, appeared in the November issue of "The Missouri Shamrock." The picture was titled "Viva La Femme" and had the following caption below:

"In support of our acclamation, we offer this picture of Miss Judy Rissler, a junior in the Home Economics School at Missouri. She is 19 years old, five feet, five inches tall and weighs 119 pounds. Dietetics is her major field of study. She has maintained a high S grade average, therein. Campus activities in which she participates are Missouri Workshop and Home Economics Club. Her major hobbies are art and singing. She is a member of the Chi Omega Sorority."

Judy is a daughter of Mrs. Edith Rissler, 104 South Prospect, Sedalia. She graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in 1953 and attended college at Christian at Columbia one year before entering the university.

13, are now in progress, according to Abe Rosenthal, director, with a rehearsal scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday at Smith-Cotton High School. It is important, Rosenthal stated, that members of the orchestra attend these rehearsals.

Bigger, Better Super-Bombs -

A bigger H-bomb test this Spring? How big is bigger?

The last one at Bikini in the Pacific was in the range of 15 to 20 million tons of TNT. The next one is supposed to be in terms of 40 to 50 million. Since the initial announcement and the public flurry against it, the figure has been modified BUT, the test series will go on with government approval because: "One of the most important purposes of these tests will be the further development of methods of defense against nuclear attack."

There has been built up in the public mind suspicion of Russian motives and their recent activities have lent nothing to dispel distrust of them.

We have a notion if super-bombs are ever used they will be used against us first. So the object of our continued experimentation with this dreadful mass killer is primarily to learn defense against an aggressor using H-bombs or worse; or relax and become quick victims of sudden attack.

We suppose there's small choice in rotten apples. But there you have it—the dangers of continued experimentation versus the dangers of unpreparedness for war.

Even though Central Missourians have a feeling of greater security out here in the prairie lands than those residing in and around metropolitan areas, there is considerable uneasiness over the renewed test programs by our own government.

What will be the breaking point on these bigger and better super-bomb tests?

The radioactive fall-out from the Bikini test affected Japanese fishermen 80 miles away. What assurance is there of the fall-out limitations from greater experimental blasts?

At the risk of being classified as an exponent of Krishna Menon's philosophy we repeat the Indian diplomat's question to us about the super-bomb test: "What do you expect to prove? You know enough now to destroy the world."

We unsentimental individuals out here in Central Missouri reason elementarily that continued experimental firing of astronomical H-bombs may blow all of us to astronomical heights without any war being declared at all.

It is very well to believe the fearsome force of atomic energy will be applied against poverty, hunger and disease but let's don't go too hog wild about it out there in the Pacific, else having split a bigger and better atom we may split the world and ourselves asunder and we'll not be around to learn the final truth and repose atomic energy might have brought.

Could not Earth's scattered fragments in a smoke-filled void form an epitaph paraphrasing the Scottish poet:

"Here mankind lies, a novice in the natural laws,
Who complains he came to hell without a cause."

Edson In Washington—

Farmer Faces Fancy Soil Bank Figuring

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — The average dirt or suitcase farmer will find himself in weeds as high as an elephant's eye when he sits down with pencil and paper to figure out what he can get out of President Eisenhower's new soil bank. Take the case of an average Farmer John, owning and operating 160 acres, of which 120 have been under cultivation.

To make it simple, say that he had 60 acres in corn or other feed grains.

If in the north, say he had the other 60 acres in wheat. If in the south, say he had 20 acres in cotton and the remaining 40 in soybeans or peanuts.

Under the acreage allotments now in effect, say that the 60 wheat acres were cut down to 50, or that the 20 cotton acres were cut down to 15. On top of this, pile the soil bank plan, in two parts.

Part one, the "reserve" plan, is aimed to reduce cash crop production while the huge government surpluses are being disposed of. So it is proposed to reduce acreage under cultivation by an average of 20 per cent.

Farmer John can't be asked to take a loss on this idle acreage. So the government proposes to pay him "a percentage of the value of the crop he would have raised." What this percentage will be isn't specified. But the general assumption is that it would be something more than the profit he would normally make on this acreage.

Since he wouldn't have to buy seed or fertilizer or cultivate or harvest the crop, his costs of operation would be reduced and counted as a saving. The 50 acres of wheat cut 20 per cent would be reduced by 10 acres.

If this land had averaged 20 bushels to the acre, at $1.80 a bushel, its crop would be worth $360. If farmer is paid half this, he'll get $180. The 15 acres of cotton cut 20 per cent would be reduced by three acres. If this land averaged two-thirds of a bale to the acre, at $175 a bale, its crop would bring $330. If the farmer is paid half this, he'll get $175.

In return for this, the farmer would have to agree not to plant this reserve acreage in any cash crop and not to raise livestock on it. The land could lie idle, or it could be planted to a cover crop, such as grass, to hold the soil.

Payment would not be in cash, however, but in Commodity Credit Corporation "certificates," issued at harvest time. They would be good for an equivalent amount of government-held surplus wheat (or cotton) at current market prices. The farmer could sell the certificates back to CCC for cash. Or he could take the commodities, sell them on the open market, or hold them on his farm for a price rise.

The wheat he might feed to his chickens. Cotton isn't edible, but it might be used to plug up the cracks. Assuming this is all clear, turn now to the second or "conservation reserve," part of this program.

This is applicable to all the rest of the land the farmer has under cultivation, regardless of crop. It would even be applicable in New England, where few of the basic crops are grown. Here the government would say to Farmer John in effect:

"The government will make a three-year (or maybe longer) contract with you to take more land out of production."

It must not be planted in other cash crops or grazed.

For the first year, President Eisenhower says the government will pay "a fair share of the costs of planting this land in trees or grasses, or building rainfall catch basins to conserve the soil. Thereafter the government would pay the farmer annually to keep this land in reserve."

These payments are not stated precisely. But President Eisenhower's total figures of 350 million dollars to take 25 million acres out of production the first year would average $14 an acre.

The exact amount will vary from region to region, based on past production. So if Farmer John put 25 acres more in conservation reserve, at an average $14 an acre, he could collect $350 the first year, possibly less in succeeding years. This, with the $175-$180 from the first part of the plan, would give him a total take of $525. This is an average. A separate calculation would have to be made for every one of America's six million farms choosing to take part in the soil bank plan.

Franklin, The Printer

Benjamin Franklin, one of the most colorful men in American history, will be twice honored during January because the 17th of the month marks the 250th anniversary of his birth. Benjamin Franklin was a rare genius, statesman, philosopher, inventor, and printer.

The week of January 15-21 will be called "Printers' Week" in honor of Printer Ben.

For Franklin's contribution, the knowledge of electricity — his invention of the lightning rod — a special stamp has been issued. The first sale of this stamp will take place in Philadelphia on Jan. 17 at a ceremony which Vice President Nixon and Postmaster Arthur E. Summerfield are expected to attend. The design on the stamp is a reproduction of the famous Benjamin West painting of Franklin in 1766 called "Franklin Taking Electricity From the Sky."

Many incidents in the life of this versatile colonial patriot could have been selected to commemorate his birth, but it is significant that it was Franklin, the Printer, and Franklin, the Electrician, that were chosen.

Need Auto Mechanics

Service station managers and vocational school directors are pleading for auto mechanics. Even the automobile industry is trying to help by providing vocational counseling materials such as engines, chassis parts and service equipment as well as books, manuscripts, service manuals and charts.

At present there is estimated only one mechanic for every 83 motor vehicles registered. At the increasing rate of vehicles manufactured about 30,000 auto mechanics will be needed to take care of the cars and trucks within the next ten years.

This should be encouraging news to the young men interested in becoming mechanics. Every effort is being made to raise the standard of training and to encourage the vocational schools to give the very latest information and instruction in auto mechanics so that when the course is finished, the mechanic will really know how to fix that car.

Great Musician Thinks That Modern Music Is a Mistake

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

AP Newsfeatures

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP) — Pablo Casals, one of the world's greatest living musicians, thinks modern music is all a mistake.

"There is nothing sincere about modern music," the 79-year-old Spanish composer, conductor and — above all — violinist said in an interview.

"The tragedy is that all modern composers know it, but can't admit it," he said. "It is the publishers and other self-interested circles that make all the fuss about modern music. But nobody loves it. It completely lacks conviction."

And he went on to explain "how it all started."

He recalled a conversation he once had with Arnold Schoenberg, inventor of the 12-tone scale and "father of modern music."

Schoenberg told him he was trying to find out "what was on the back of the medal which we call music, to discover the elements of a new kind of music," Casals said.

"Poor Schoenberg!" he exclaimed. "He caught himself in his own net. He could not find the new kind of music, because what he found was no music. But his many followers and imitators took him at his word and pretended that a new music had been discovered."

The white-haired master considers J. S. Bach the greatest musician of all time. "He was a pure product of nature," he said, "and that is more than can be said of any other composer before or since. He is the greatest of all, but that should not reduce our reverence for Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Brahms and others."

Casals learned to admire these composers as a small child, as he sat under the family piano and listened to his father playing. At the age of 3 he was able to play simple pieces himself, and a year later he had mastered several Beethoven sonatas. He sang, too. "In fact, I was able to sing long before I could speak fluently," he said.

Casals said he suffered from bad stage-fright at the beginning of his career as a violinist. "I was never as scared as the first time I performed in Vienna, in 1907," he said. "Here I was, in the center of the musical world, and I doubted whether I was even worthy of giving a performance in a Vienna concert hall."

"Three minutes after the concert opened, I dropped my bow," he said. "I fell among the public, but there was no laughter, no commotion, nothing. Somebody picked up the bow and passed it to me, and I started again. At the end, the applause was greater than I had dared to hope."

"That is how the Viennese are. No war can ever deprive that city of the spirit of Schubert and Beethoven."

Casals said a performing artist requires a responsive audience and could never regard the most up-to-date high-fidelity recording apparatus as "anything but a machine."

"In a concert hall, one may have stage fright, but at least one is able to establish a direct contact with the public, to sense its reactions and give one's best. In a recording studio, one has to imagine an audience in order to be able to play at all."

He recalled a recording he insisted on repeating three times, each time convinced his tempo was too slow. In the end, the technicians convinced him that his performance could not be improved.

"So I went home, sad and dismayed," he said. "I could not sleep that night. Then it occurred to me that the music had sounded too slow only because the machine had impaired its vitality. This was a sad experience, and it holds true with the most perfect and most modern equipment."

"But I suppose recorded music is better than no music at all."

Dr. Jordan Says—

Cause Is Still Unknown For Parkinson's Disease

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

A man who is obviously troubled about his wife's health writes that her hand trembles when she holds something. He feels it is getting a little worse.

Although there are several possibilities, the most likely cause is the common condition known as shaking palsy, paralysis agitans or Parkinson's disease.

However, the inquirer should certainly take his wife to a physician who can make an exact diagnosis.

Parkinson's disease is principally a disorder of the later years of life, though there is one form which sometimes follows brain fever or encephalitis in younger people.

In its typical form one or both hands shake while at rest and many motions of the body become slower and are performed with some appearance of stiffness. As a general rule, the shaking starts in one hand, and the other may not tremble for months or years and may never become as bad as the one in which it started.

The cause of Parkinson's disease of age (in contrast to that which follows brain fever) is not entirely understood. Apparently a portion of the brain is damaged, but the thinking processes do not seem much harmed, as a rule.

Some hardening of particular blood vessels is the most likely explanation for the development of Parkinson's disease.

Shaking palsy is more common among men than women. It tends to start slowly, though sometimes the symptoms develop suddenly after a mental or physical shock of some kind.

In addition to the shaking in one or both hands, victims often complain of a loss of muscular strength and difficulty in performing movements which they previously did with ease. The physician is helped in making a diagnosis by a certain lack of expressiveness in the patient's face and by the way he walks.

A method of preventing the development of Parkinson's disease has yet to be found. In fact, it seems doubtful that anything can be developed along this line until more is learned about the cause. Prevention is the ultimate aim, of course.

There is so far no sure, complete cure, but there are drugs available which, together with satisfactory attention to the general health, will relieve many of the symptoms and make life not at all unbearable.

Right House—Wrong Room

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP)—A 53-year-old transient stumbled into a house and fell asleep in the living room. About 3 a.m. Sheriff Dick Walsh thought he heard a noise downstairs. Upon checking, Walsh stumbled over the unconscious visitor. The guest was quickly shifted to the other side of the residence—the Flathead County Jail.

As Sedalia Sees It—

How the GI's Fare In Bleak And Muddy Land of Korea

By Esther Van Wagoner Tufty
Our Correspondent in Korea

WITH 24TH DIVISION, Korea—"Do you know why you are serving here in Korea now that there's an armistice with the North Korean and Chinese Communists?"

This question I asked perhaps a hundred soldiers in the two American divisions (the 24th and the 7th) now guarding the main sector of the DMZ, the demilitarized zone, which separates the Communists from non-Communists in this tortured country.

Private First Class Richard Colvin of Glendora, California, gave this answer, which seemed to be typical: "A lot of guys I know got killed to keep part of Korea free and now we have to hold the line."

One GI said, "You don't think we are going to hand the rest of Korea to those Communists on a silver platter?"

Another, while others listened in agreement, "It looks like the United States will have to have a big army for a long time. My father was in World War II and my older brother fought in Korea and I guess it's my turn and I'm lucky it's peacetime... but ain't it a hell of a peace?"

At the recreation club of the First Battalion of the 21st Infantry Regiment of the 24th Division I talked with commanding officer Lt. Col. James L. Baldwin, of River Falls, Wis. His men are the "Gimlets" and proud of two things. Their outfit was the first in Korea and now might please over their athletic record. They have such football heroes as Jack Shanafelt, University of Pennsylvania All-American, and Jim Sharkey of University of West Virginia Sugar Bowl fame.

In that recreation center near the Old Kansas line, where fateful hill 149 could be seen, it was obvious each man was keenly aware and grateful to be serving in Korea when the guns are silent. The only gunfire that now bothers them is the live ammunition used in the hard, realistic training they are getting under the command of Major General S. B. Mason.

Many are envious of the British soldier who serves only 12 months in Korea instead of the 16 required for the American soldier. Meanwhile it takes a bit of sturdy stuff to serve in this bleak, cold muddy country. But there's some satisfaction "in doing it the hard way instead of being stationed in a soft spot like Europe or even Japan."

How was the food? It must be consistently good because each battalion brags "We have the best." I found the roast beef (the Army buys Government-tested "choice") tender and the mashed potatoes not lumpy. The gravy didn't come out of a barrel. Second helpings or even thirds please the cook.

Do they want to vote? Yes, they do and those from states not allowing non-resident voting are deeply resentful.

One disappointment was the remarks heard against the ROK soldiers. The American GI just doesn't understand the Korean soldier as he did when the fighting was hot. Yet General Chung, the brilliant head of the ROK army says, "There have been very few incidents." It doesn't reach a crisis very often. Maybe the GI needs to be told more emphatically that the big 20-division ROK army, mostly American trained and equipped, is the largest Army in Free Asia. Because it exists fewer men in the United Nations forces need to serve in Korea.

Q's and A's On $75,000,000 Bond Issue

The Governor of the State of Missouri has set January 24 for a special referendum election on a $75,000,000 bond issue to finance a building program.

This is one of a series of questions and answers concerning What It Is, Why It Is Needed and What It Will Do.

Q. What have some other states done?

A. Many states have taxes from a specific source allocated by constitution to pay for buildings at state institutions. (Our neighboring state of Kansas has a mill tax devoted to buildings at its institutions of higher learning. This produces approximately $4,100,000 each year for a smaller program than Missouri's.) Ohio just recently voted a constitutional amendment providing a bond issue of $150,000,000 for buildings at its schools and mental institutions.

Want Husband Trouble? Here's Easy Way to Get It

The wife who begins to put her children ahead of her husband is just plain asking for husband trouble.

No matter how much a man loves his children, he doesn't want to play second fiddle to them. So it's a big mistake for a wife: To chase all over town running errands for the children and then decide that she hasn't the time or energy to do the one thing her husband asked her to do.

To let the kids and their friends completely take over the house without any regard to whether or not it is an evening when the man of the house is dog tired and in need of some peace and quiet.

To side with the children when their father puts his foot down.

To be more interested in the children's activities than in her husband's business affairs.

To let the children do things their father disapproves of because she decides that he is too strict or just doesn't understand and that the children must be kept happy at all costs.

To see how important it is for the kids to have the things they want but not to be able to see that maybe the man who pays the bills really can't afford to indulge their every wish.

To help the children keep secrets from Dad because he "wouldn't understand."

To worry out loud about the children every time she and her husband leave them.

To be more concerned about the health of her children than her husband's.

To ignore her husband's suggestions about the children's upbringing.

All of these things tell a man his wife is more interested in the children than she is in him.

home and told her his mother kept saying she was going to call Santa if he wasn't good.

"That's what we tell Terry, too," said the aunt.

"Maybe," said the young nephew thoughtfully, "we'd better check telephone numbers." —H.L.

Guest Editorial—

MEMPHIS COMMERCIAL APPEAL: Sunday School and Traffic. A Methodist group in Pittsburgh has approved a special unit of Sunday School lessons on safe driving. The course is entitled "Safety — The Christian's Responsibility." A spokesman for the 116-member curriculum committee remarked that there is a Christian way to drive an automobile and that Sunday School is precisely the place to teach it. The incident is by no means the only one to indicate that religious groups are taking improvement in driving practices as a legitimate part of their endeavor.

It may be noted that application of the Golden Rule to driving would cure most of the ills to which traffic is subject. There are also injunctions against killing that may appropriately be invoked as a matter of Christian conduct. It is high time, we think, that additional emphasis be placed on the moral obligations to drive safely.

Resume Lions Tourney

Sedalia Lions Hold Invitational Tourney For Independent Cage Teams Jan. 31

The Sedalia Lions Club is back in the basketball sponsoring business again with the announcement of resuming their annual basketball Independent Invitational Tourney. The Lions have resumed after a lay-off of several seasons in holding these tournaments.

Tournament dates have been set for Jan. 31 through Feb. 4 at the Liberty Park Convention Hall. It is a 16 team single elimination tourney.

There will be four games on the first three nights with two games on the last two nights of the tournament. Already 15 teams have accepted invitations for the tournament with the 16th team to be named the first of this week as soon as eliminations are made among several applications for entry.

Kenneth A. Buchholz and W. C. Ream, are co-chairman of the 1956 tournament and they reported the success of the resumption of the Sedalia Lions Club tournament has been far greater than first anticipated. Due to so many tournaments being played in this season of the year it was not expected to get such excellent cooperation among the other tournament sponsors, in getting a date set.

Many of the team managers who have been in Sedalia in previous years upon learning Sedalia was planning to resume again, didn't wait for invitations but wrote the Lions requesting entry, which added to a little confusion in team selections. More teams desired to get into the Sedalia tournament than could be handled, thus the selections have been made to bring teams as evenly matched as possible.

Sedalia's two independent teams are entered, the Sedalia Hamm's sponsored by the Hamm's Sales Co., and the Horttor's Plumbers sponsored by the John L. Horttor Plumbing Co.

The committee in arranging for the games announced the first round games and the nights four games are to be played start at 6:30; 7:45; 9:00 and 10:15 p. m. The last two nights the games start at 7:30 p. m. and 9:00 p. m. Each team will be allowed 10 players and a non-playing coach or nine players and one-playing coach.

The tournament is amateur but only the first, second, third and fourth teams have an opportunity to win travel monies for their endeavors. However, the 10 players picked for the All-Star team will be awarded gold basketballs and a Sportsmanship trophy is to be awarded the player showing the best sportsmanship in the tournament.

Any monies which are made from the tournament will revert to the various civic activities of the Sedalia Lions Club, such as their work for crippled or underprivileged children program, blind fund, and other children's activities.

Teams which have already been given the invitation and accepted to play are: Concordia Independents, Lee's Summit "Cleo Maters", Windsor Construction Co., Warsaw Merchants, Alcoa Farms of Jefferson City, Houstonia, Pilot Grove, Booneville, Fayette, Ottaville, Rally Real Estate, Superior Cleaners of Warrensburg, the Whiteman Air Force Base team, Sedalia Hamm's and Horttor's Plumbers.

Jim Hook, former University of Missouri football star is the manager-coach of the Cleo Maters, while the Windsor team is sponsored by Charles R. Holmes, Lions District Governor of District E.

Gremlins Take Victory In Knob Noster Tourney

The Knob Noster High Invitational basketball tournament finished the first round Thursday night with victories for Sedalia's Sacred Heart Gremlins, Concordia and Warrensburg College High.

The Concordia team defeated Green Ridge by a score of 55 to 42 and College High defeated Knob Noster by a score of 65 to 58.

Sacred Heart Gremlins won a consolation place by defeating Windsor in a close game by a score of 72 to 71. Mark Mettler was high scorer of the game with 24. Windsor's Dial followed close behind with 23.

Windsor led the scoring at the half by a score of 41 to 38 but the Gremlins pulled away in the third quarter to win.

Warsaw Lions Cage Tourney Opens Monday

The annual Warsaw Lions Invitational Basketball Tournament gets underway at the Community building in Warsaw Monday night. Sixteen teams have been entered in the play which is expected to be the toughest of any of the many such tourneys held by the Lions there.

Heer's of Springfield, defending champions from 1955 are to be back defending their title. Their first game is scheduled for Wednesday night against Deepwater at 8:30 p. m.

Two Sedalia teams are entered. The Sedalia Hamm's Beer open the tournament playing in the first round at 7 p. m. Monday night meeting the Superior Cleaners of Warrensburg. The Horttor's Plumbers are on the opening night schedule and play the second first round game at 8:30 p. m. meeting the Waynesville Independent team.

The third first round game Monday is between the Patton Clippers of Springfield and Buffalo, at 10 p. m.

Tuesday night first round games are: Knob Noster and Windsor at 7 p. m.; Republic and Houstonia at 8:30 p. m.; and Warsaw vs. Hermitage at 10 p. m.

Wednesday night schedule of first round games call for S.M.S. Independents, Springfield, meeting Camdenton at 7 p. m.; Deepwater vs. Heer's at 8:30 p. m.

The first of the second round or quarter-finals will be at 10 p. m. Wednesday night between the winner of the second and third game of Monday night schedule.

Thursday night three quarter-final games are to be played. The first game is to be between the winner of Knob Noster-Windsor and Deepwater-Heer's; second game between the winner of Republic-Houstonia and S.M.S. Independents; Camdenton; third game between winners of Warsaw-Hermitage and Warrensburg-Sedalia Hamm's.

The semi-finals will be played Friday night with the third-fourth place game to be played at 8 p. m. and the championship game at 9:30 p. m.

PBCAA Cage Tourney At Lincoln This Week

The Junior High School basketball tournament of the Pettis-Benton County Athletic Association will get under way at the Lincoln High school this week. The finals will be played Saturday night, Jan. 21.

Eight teams have been entered: Sacred Heart, La Monte, Warsaw, Hughesville, Houstonia, Cole Camp, Green Ridge and Lincoln.

The only team of the PBCAA not to participate in this annual tournament will be the Smithton High School.

Knob Noster Cops Consolation Prize In Tourney

The Knob Noster High basketball tournament saw Knob Noster down Green Ridge Friday night to win the consolation prize. Knob Noster was off to a slow start in the first quarter of the ball game scoring only eight points to Green Ridge's 12 points. Knob Noster was off to a fast pace in the second period of the game scoring a very hard and fast 22 points. Knob Noster continued playing a hard and fast game when the second half started. Cooper pushed his team to victory by dropping 24 points through the buckets. The Knob Noster team was also helped by Droegge and Swope who scored 16 and 13 points respectively. Kaiser and Bullard each scored 16 points for Green Ridge but their hard work, was to no avail.

In the semi-finals of the tournament Leeton and Concordia each won their games from St. Paul's and College High of Warrensburg respectively. Leeton and Concordia played for the championship Saturday night in the tournament.

The Leeton team was off to a fast start in the game with St. Paul's by scoring 18 points in the first quarter. They kept up their attack on St. Paul's all the way through the game. St. Paul's was rather slow in starting but near the end of the game they were beginning to pick up the pace a little. White led the Leeton team by scoring 25 points while Harclerode scored 26. Brown also scored 15 points. These three players were the ones that caused St. Paul's so much trouble all through the game. Bodenstad of St. Paul's rung up 26 points for his team but it didn't help them out too much.

College High was just barely edged out of the tournament by Concordia by a score of 54 to 51. This was a nip and tuck ball game all the way. At the end of the first quarter College High led by only three points but their margin narrowed down as Concordia took the lead over in the second half of the game. Holsten and Dreyer of the Concordia team were the sparks of that team scoring 18 and 15 points, respectively. Lyne was the high point man of the entire game taking honors when he scored 24 points.

Top New Year's Bowl Games Can Be Seen At Fox Theatre

Starting Sunday through Tuesday Sedalia football fans will have an opportunity to see four of the top New Year bowl games. The games will be seen in Movietone News Week at the Fox Theatre.

The Rose Bowl classic is shown with the Michigan State Spartans taking the game from U. C. L. A. in the final minutes of play. The game played at Pasadena, Calif., was won by a field goal margin, 17-14.

Maryland is seen crumbling under the crushing Oklahoma Sooners in the Orange Bowl at Miami. The undefeated Sooners win the affair 20-6.

Texas Christian is seen being edged out in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, when Ole Mississippi sneaked by to win 14-13.

Down in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans, some 30,000 see Georgia Tech defeat Pittsburgh 7-0.

The pictures show the important plays of the games, with excellent description of the high lights through the entire run of the film by Ben Loweree and Joe Willis.

Sports Scraps

(By D. Kelly Scruton)

THE one big item in the School Bond election to be voted upon Tuesday, Feb. 7, is something this column has been deeply interested in for years. But until now the effort of putting it before the people had not been made. Now it is here and I hope Sedalians will give it much thought before voting, then go to the polls and vote YES.

As a matter of fact the entire issue is deserving of consideration and should be passed by the citizens of Sedalia. It's needed and failure to go forward will cause an undesirable condition in our schools.

The propositions are to be explained in detail within a few days and next week I shall endeavor to bring out all the good points of the Smith-Cotton Junior-Senior Physical Education and Music Building.

Certainly if the issue is passed, the proposed building is accepted, it will be a great benefit not only to Sedalia's every increasing school children, but something for all Sedalia to be proud of. It is unique in structure according to architect drawings.

It is good to see the Sedalia Lions Club resuming the sponsoring of their former annual Invitation Basketball Tournament. There has been a lay-off for several years now of the tournament held in Sedalia, and the demand became too great for the Lions to discontinue any connection with the sport.

As the pressure grew, President John B. Ellison named K. A. Buchholz and W. C. Ream, co-chairmen of a committee to investigate. Their decision was to start all over again and the Club voted to give it another "fling".

Hardly had the information leaked out there would be a Lions tourney, than requests for bids to play were received and the work of trying to pick the most evenly matched teams began. It is a 16-team single elimination tournament.

The response on whether to hold a tourney when questionnaires were sent to many of the known independent teams, was far greater than anticipated. Both Buchholz and Ream are confident the tournament will be well worth attending as to a spectators standpoint if they want to see some good basketball. And furthermore the competition will be strong, they declare.

Sedalia was well on its way of establishing a real Central Missouri basketball center in tournament play when it was decided to stop for lack of fan support. However, two years in a row bad weather hit the tournament and many of the fans did not care to brave the weather to see the games, resulting in a financial failure.

American League Trips National League In Old Timers' Game

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 14.—The American League defeated the National League 8-4 today in an old timers' baseball game played for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

Such stars of other days as Dazzy Vance, Paul Waner, Jimmy Foy, Eddie Roush and Sam Rice played some surprisingly good baseball for the 3,000 fans.

The old timers got some support from present day players, and one of them, Hoot Evers, supplied the winning margin with a three-run homer in the fifth and last inning. Now with Cleveland, Evers poled one over the left field wall off the pitching of Floyd Brown, a former Cincinnati hurler.

Vance, 62, pitching with beautiful form but so slowly you could count the stitches on his fast ball, pitched the first inning for the National Leaguers and allowed no runs and just one hit, an infield single by Billy Klaus.

Sweet Springs In Double Win Over Corder

Sweet Springs High School enjoyed a double victory over Corder the past week when the varsity trounced on their opponents 60 to 29, and the "B" team came through to romp on Corder 40-16. Both games were played at Corder.

The "B" squad jumped to a first quarter lead which never was threatened by Corder. Donley and Payne tied for high scoring honors for Sweet Springs with 11 each while Bowman had eight for the Corder team.

The scores by quarter were:
Sweet Springs 13 18 9 6—46
Corder 8 2 6 0—16

In the varsity game the Sweet Springs aggregation went into an overwhelming lead in the first quarter 20 to 6 and led at the half time 35-16. In the third stanza the Spa team held a 45-22 lead and finished the contest 60 to 29.

Widder of Sweet Springs was the high scorer with 23 points while Corder's scoring was divided between Bayer, Heimsoth and Mahnken, all who scored eight each.

Corder had consolation for the series of games when the girl's volleyball team came through to down the Sweet Springs girl's by a 41-28 score. Hearn of Sweet Springs was high for her team with 13 points while Heimsoth tallied 21 of the Corder points for high pointer.

Middlecoff, Rosburg Lead Golf Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif., Jan. 14 (AP) — Dr. Cary Middlecoff and chunky Bob Rosburg slashed over the soggy Monterey Peninsula course in sub par figures today to tie for the lead in the National Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament at the 36-hole mark.

The pair, riding 134 scores, held a one-stroke margin over bulky Mike Souchak who fought the brisk Pacific Ocean breezes on the seaside Cypress Point course for a 71 which dropped him to 135 with 18 holes to go in tomorrow's wind-up at Pebble Beach.

Souchak, the first day leader with an 8-under-par 64 at Monterey had four under-par figures today until he reached the exposed holes which wind up the Cypress course. He bogied all three, including the famed 16th "Ocean hole."

Middlecoff, the No. 2 winner nationally last year, and Rosburg, the former Stanford University athlete, conquered the Cypress course today before it was soaked by a heavy rain and swept by strong winds. Middlecoff had 33-35-68 and Rosburg a 34-31-65 over the less exposed Monterey fairways to go with their respective 66 and 69 yesterday.

Both courses were sloppy and became increasingly difficult to play when a steady drizzle set in shortly after noon. Rosburg came in before it got real bad, but Middlecoff was drenched by the time he reached the clubhouse. Tomorrow's forecast was for continued rain.

Mike Fetchick of Yonkers, N.Y., the No. 2 man in the race when play opened this morning, was the last man off the tee at noon and finished his round in almost total darkness at Cypress with a bulging 78 for a 143 total.

Trading the Rosburg-Middlecoff-Souchak trio with 137's were Bill Ogde of Chicago, Doug Ford of Yonkers, and Bo Winger of Oklahoma City.

Both Ben Hogan, the four-time National Open champion who insists he's playing this tournament for fun, and young Ronnie Nicol of Los Angeles had their troubles. They shared the No. 4 spot when play started this morning on 67 slates. Hogan had putter trouble at Monterey and came in with a 35-38-73 which ran his total to 140. Nicol was plagued by the Cypress Point winds and carded 38-36-74 for 141 after 36 holes.

Hogan's difficulties carried over to his partner in the best ball event, tournament host Bing Crosby, and the pair dropped out of

Ban On NY Guild Is Supported By NBA Committee

CHICAGO, Jan. 14 (AP)—Julius Helfand's ban on the New York Boxing Managers' guild today received full support of the National Boxing Assn.'s executive committee, but no action was taken on the reeling New York group's parent unit, the International Boxing Guild.

As a regularly scheduled meeting, the NBA committee—with 14 delegates on hand from boxing commissions in nine states—agreed to back any suspensions or revocations the non-member New York State Athletic Commission may issue in the wake of Helfand's crushing of the New York Guild.

Helfand has set Monday as the deadline for members to quit the New York Guild, which he said he attacked to drive undesirables from boxing in that state. After that, guild members will lose their licenses.

The NBA's executive committee, while simply stating that nothing came before it on the International Guild, gave the impression it felt that group would die on the fine with the dissolution of the New York Guild.

Several members said that if the International Guild had chapters in their states, they were imperceptible and inactive.

In climbing on the Helfand bandwagon, what executive committee approved a three-part resolution which pledged cooperation with New York right down the line on any refusal to grant licenses.

Cards Sign '56 Pacts With Hemus, 3 Others

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 14 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals tonight reported Solly Hemus, utility infielder, and three other players have agreed to terms of their 1956 contracts.

Frank Lane, general manager of the club, said Hemus told him on the telephone that his salary terms were satisfactory.

Others who signed were rookie pitcher Bob Mabe and relief pitcher Frank Smith and Paul LaPalme. The action leaves only 10 players still out of the fold.

Purdue Freezes Ball. Then Takes 66-62 Win

EAST LANSING, Mich., Jan. 14 (AP)—Purdue protected a one-point lead by freezing the ball for the last minute and 59 seconds and then dropped in three free throws to edge Michigan State 66-62 in a televised Big Ten basketball thriller today.

The lead in the pro-amateur competition with a 123 net.

The score was good enough for a second place tie with John Barnum of Belmont, Mich., and movie actor Dennis O'Keefe. Leaders were Ralph Blomquist, Glendale, Calif., and George Calios, Monterey, with 61-60-121.

Western Horsemen Club Elects New Set Of Officers, Directors

The Western Horsemen Club of Sedalia has started its third year as a saddle club with a complete new set of officers and directors.

The club held election Thursday, Jan. 12, at the American Legion Hall, with the following officers and directors being elected: president, J. D. Gregory; vice-president, Frank Schouten; secretary, Mrs. Verda Rich; treasurer, Eldon DeMott; drill leader, Homer Baker, and parade marshal, Miles Evans. The new directors are Charles Dowdy, Dewey Swopes, Carl Heuerman and Bill Wiener.

The club will continue to meet and drill at the horsemen's arena which is located on West 32nd Street. Drill practice will resume on Sunday afternoon as soon as the weather permits. The members of the club cordially invite visitors to their practices.

After the business meeting, refreshments of coffee and donuts were served to the members by Mrs. Ida Rhodes.

State GOP Chairman Compton Hits Back

MONTGOMERY CITY, Mo., Jan. 14 (AP)—State Republican Chairman Perry Compton struck back at his critics today, declaring his choices for state finance co-chairman brought approval from GOP leaders in all parts of the state.

Compton said criticism of his appointments "is unwarranted, misdirected and leaves the Critics' out on a limb," in view of letters and telegrams commending his appointment of Arthur K. Atkinson and Walter E. Burtelow, both of St. Louis as co-chairmen of the State Finance Committee.

Rep. Short Gives Ike Chair, But Not to Use

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14 (AP)—President Eisenhower is to be given a Missouri-made hickory rocking chair Monday but the donor, Rep. Short (R-Mo.), doesn't want him to use it much during the next five years.

Short, thereby implying he hopes Eisenhower will seek a second term, said the chair is intended for use at the President's farm near Gettysburg, Pa.

Open Jan. 26 In Italy—1,200 Athletes To Assemble For World Olympic Games

BROOKLYN, Jan. 14 (AP)—Gil Hodges, Brooklyn first baseman, has signed his 1956 contract, and will leave shortly for Florida to take aim at a couple of National League batting records.

The Dodgers announced the signing of Hodges, who batted .289 in 1954, and said he would be at the Brooklyn spring training camp at Vero Beach, Fla., by Feb. 1 after a visit with his parents in Indiana. Contract terms were not disclosed.

Hodges has driven in 100 or more runs for seven straight years, one short of the record set by Mel Ott of the New York Giants in 1929-36. He hit one grand slam homer last season for a career total of 11, which is one short of the National League mark of 12 held by Ralph Kiner and Rogers Hornsby. He drove in 102 runs in 1955.

During his major league career Hodges has hit 239 homers, but his round tripper production fell off from 42 in 1954 to 27 last season.

He said that was what he wanted to improve on next season, and for that reason would travel to Florida early to be in top shape when the club begins training Feb. 22.

Open Jan. 26 In Italy—1,200 Athletes To Assemble For World Olympic Games

CORTINA D'AMPEZZO, Italy, Jan. 14 (AP)—Twelve hundred athletes from 32 nations will set the seventh and probably the greatest of the world's winter Olympic games in motion 12 days from now.

Here in bustling Cortina, where four years of preparation have nearly reached the payoff, people expect to see northern and central Europeans—or the mysterious Russians—winning the major share of glory.

The Olympic games open Jan. 26 and close Feb. 8.

Experts here are wary of predictions—except that the athletes will find the finest facilities ever provided for the winter games. They say there are too many unknown factors awaiting the athletes dashing down the steep mountain sides of their Dolomite Alps or skating on the carefully groomed ice of Lake Misurina.

They know too little of the Russians, entering the winter Olympics for the first time.

Here is how they think the various competitions will shape up:

Alpine skiing—Austrians lead the way with possible threats from American, Japan or Scandinavia. America is strong in the women's events.

Cross country ski races—Finns, Russians and maybe Poles will dominate.

Ski jumps—Norwegians or Finns favored to win.

Speed skating—Russians, Finns and Norwegians lead.

Bobsled races—Italians, Swiss and Americans expected to battle it out.

Ice hockey—Defending champion Canada is the team to beat with the United States, Russia and Czechoslovakia as the leading challengers.

Figure skating—The United States, with two world champions, is outstanding.

Outside of the figure skating, America's chances of winning Olympic gold medals seem brightest in the women's Alpine skiing, bobsledding and speed skating.

Andrea Mead Lawrence, 23-year-old housewife from Marshall, Colo., won the women's slalom and giant slalom at Oslo in 1952. Mother of three children since then, she placed only 20th in the giant slalom at Grindelwald, Jan. 20. Andy officials from all of Kansas and parts of Oklahoma and Missouri are scheduled to attend the lectures and classes sponsored by the federal Civil Defense Administration.

Patrol Knows Accidents Can Be Avoided

Missouri Highway Patrolmen investigate more than 15,000 traffic accidents every year on Missouri's rural highways and streets. These accidents range from those with only minor injuries to those with multiple deaths and severe and tragic injuries.

The gruesome task of investigating traffic accidents is not one that is relished by patrol officers. In these investigations, tragedy is unfolded day after day to display its terror and ruin to their unforgetting gaze.

The Patrolmen know that traffic accidents for the most part can be avoided and but for carelessness and poor judgment those who are dead and those who are dying would be alive.

Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, Superintendent of the Missouri Highway Patrol says, "The pity of the traffic death and injury record is that many of these stark tragedies began with a small act of carelessness or imprudence."

Col. Waggoner explained, traffic accidents are the end result of a chain of events. Many of these acts seem innocent enough at the start, but they progress rapidly and soon reach a point from which the accident cannot be avoided. It is at this precise moment that drivers realize that accidents can

Former President Says We Need A Democrat In The White House

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Former President Harry Truman said today "we certainly need a Democrat in the white house" and repeated that he would not support any particular candidate for President.

"No, I will not support any individual candidate," Truman said. "I am very anxious that the Democratic convention should be a free convention."

At a news conference on his arrival for a talk tonight at a St. Paul dinner honoring Governor Orville Freeman, Truman was asked if U. S. Senator Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) would make a good vice presidential candidate.

"I think he would make a good official anywhere he chose to serve. I believe he is a great senator," he replied.

happen to them, but it is too late. Death may even cheat them of using their experience to their advantage.

The Patrol Chief warned that every driver's traffic safety program must be supplied by himself because no combination of education, enforcement or engineering can provide for his welfare until he accepts his responsibility to himself and to society to drive safely and prudently.

Ben Franklin Had Start In Poverty

BOSTON, Jan. 7 (AP)—One of the astounding success stories of all time began just 250 years ago in a small house in Boston where, by his own words, Benjamin Franklin was born "in poverty and obscurity."

The 15th of 17 children, Franklin received only two years of formal education. He failed in arithmetic. But regardless of position or education, no child born anywhere in the British Empire in the year 1706 was to have a greater impact upon that empire's destiny.

Records give Franklin's birth date as Jan. 6, but that was by the old Julian Calendar. When the new Gregorian Calendar was adopted by the British Empire in 1752, the date automatically became Jan. 17 — the anniversary which has been observed since.

Spurred by boundless curiosity and belief that service to his fellow man was the greatest service to God, Franklin educated himself into a many-sided genius, with an endless zest for living.

Of almost unbelievable breadth of interest, he became: Athlete, printer, newspaperman, publisher, mechanic, author, civic leader, successful businessman, renowned scientist and inventor, patriot, philosopher and a diplomat who helped to shape history.

Dedicated to all human freedoms, he was the first to petition Congress to end slavery. He helped write both the Declaration of Independence and the American Constitution.

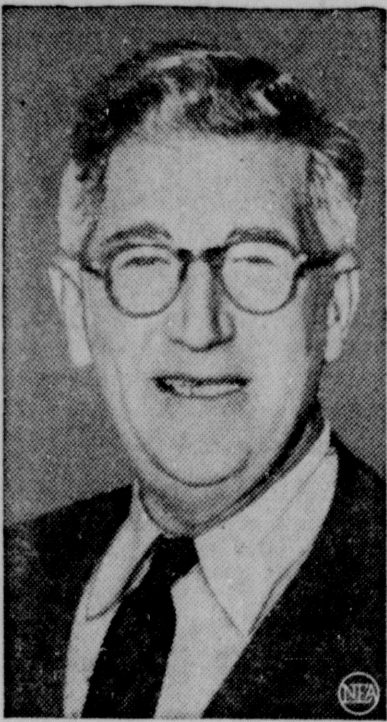

Honored in Europe for his scientific achievements, he used this great prestige to win France's assistance when the colonies revolted against the British.

And he used skills and knowledge of men and nations built up through years as a colonial agent in England to win for his weak country a better peace than either might England or powerful France — which had an eye on American expansion — would have desired.

The proverb Franklin assembled in "Poor Richard's Almanack" contributed mightily to building a lasting tradition of individual responsibility and enterprise in the struggling young American nation. They included:

"Early to bed and early to rise makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise . . . God helps them that help themselves . . . The worst wheel of a cart makes the most noise . . . A penny saved is a penny got."

Franklin accepted women as persons of independent intellect long before they won the right to vote. And few men in history have so attracted the opposite sex. Most of his feminine friendships were formed from middle age onward, and there was a touching quality in the lifelong affection he inspired in younger women. His friendships with distinguished women of France are matters of history.

Franklin rushed headlong into life after his humble birth. Apprenticed early to his printer brother, he spent his spare moments reading and practicing writing. At 16 he was contributing to his brother's New England Courant.

At 17 he was off on his own — without the family blessing — first to New York and then to Philadelphia. He entered Philadelphia as a hungry runaway, munching one loaf of bread while carrying two others under his arm; but he was to have a mighty influence on that city's history.

To Philadelphia, Franklin brought a Boston-born love of books. And although at odds with the Puritan leadership, he also brought a Puritan conscience and Puritan principles which he found hard to follow. His writings show how hard he struggled against his faults.

At 22, Franklin was in the print-

Neighbors Help Family Who Lose All In Fire

A great response was given to the Harold Goodall family, Sweet Springs, who lost all of their possessions when fire destroyed their home Jan. 3. They have now obtained nearly all of the items needed to start housekeeping, as well as clothing and food.

ing business with a partner. The next year they were publishing the Pennsylvania Gazette. At 28, Franklin owned the paper outright.

Franklin was 24 when he married Deborah Read, who seven years earlier had laughed at the sight of him eating his loaf of bread on the street. Into the new home he brought a son, William, whose mother's name he never divulged.

"Poor Richard's Almanack" was launched when Franklin was 26. And the next year he began spare-time studies through which he was to improve his Latin and master the reading of French, Italian, Spanish and German.

Turning inventor, he devised the Franklin stove, which brought the fireplace out of the chimney — with vast savings in fuel and increased heating comfort. Then came Franklin's famed kite experiment, which ended the ancient mystery of thunder and lightning, and the lightning rod.

Through the years and in a dozen fields, the inventions continued:

Bifocal glasses, a device for removing objects from high shelves, the "armonica" which made music from spinning glasses, a clock, a flexible catheter.

Franklin made studies in the

Missouri Exceeds US Savings Bond Quota For the Year 1955

Final figures of the sales of U.S. Savings Bonds in Missouri for 1955 have just been released, according to J. J. McGrath, chairman of the U.S. Savings Bonds committee for Pettis County. He reported with pride that an amount of $65,270 was purchased by the people of our county in December, which brought the total for the year to $1,135,859 or 113.5 per cent of the quota assigned.

R. E. L. Hill, state chairman, joined in congratulations on this Savings Bonds record. Hill announced that Missouri as a whole has exceeded its 1955 quota through sales of $169,305,518 in U.S. Savings Bonds during the year, or 106.5 per cent of the goal set. December sales were $12,888,518.

"All Missourians will be proud of this achievement," said Chairman Hill. "It is a splendid one and every Missourian will profit."

Small Band of Americans Stand Vigil With Radar Lance

NEMURO, Japan, Jan. 14 (AP)—On a bleak, windswept point of eastern Hokkaido, a small band of Americans stand lonely vigil with radar lances over one of the most sensitive segments of the free world defense perimeter.

Four miles away, across the frigid gray-green Nemuro Straits, lies Russia's land—the low, flat Habomai and Shikotan islands, seized as spoils of World War II. And shrouded in mist and mystery farther north is the equally visible outline of Kunashiri, southernmost of the Soviet-held Kuriles.

In this tense cold war proximity, perhaps exceeded only in Germany, the GIs of this desolate frontier post have fashioned a life far removed from the bars, honky-tonks and shabby dance halls surrounding most American bases.

Their unique adjustment to a semi-arctic environment has led them to consider their duties routine.

Yet these less than 150 airmen, manning a segment of a vast aircraft control and warning net, know the explosive potential of their task.

Three times they have heard big Russian coast artillery guns thunder from Kunashiri, rattling windows in their Quonset huts with practice rounds that fall harmlessly but significantly off the Japanese coast.

Unidentified boats on at least two occasions have pulled up at night off nearby Hanasaki harbor and combed the area with blazing searchlights.

Twice in three years big U.S. B29 planes have been shot down by Russian fighters within sight of the camp.

Armed Russian sea and air patrols are seen regularly.

And 3,628 Japanese fishermen of Nemuro—all but 74 now returned—have been captured and interrogated for violating fishing grounds they still consider their own.

Bitterly they will tell any American who cares to listen:

"We want those islands back. We cannot live without them."

For this reason, perhaps, the Americans and local Japanese have struck up a unique camaraderie.

The airmen at the base have sent their bulldozers into Nemuro to level playgrounds for children, to grade roads and clear snow from streets that would otherwise be blocked throughout the winter.

The regular meeting of the Lincoln Town Board was recently held and in addition to routine business, it was decided to remove the seats at the local theater building. Plans for redecorating the interior of the building were formulated and work will probably start soon.

Russia Boosts Aid Offers To Indians

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—The Soviet Union is reported sharply stepping up its offers of economic assistance to India.

Indian officials disclosed that the Russians have offered to build a complete aluminum industry and to expand a major hydroelectric project in this country. These and previous Soviet offers to build a steel mill and aid Indian oil exploration are believed only a beginning in the Russian campaign.

Informants say, however, the Reds are finding the going slow, with the Indians examining every angle of any Russian proposition.

Indian officials so far will confirm only the Russian offers for the aluminum and hydroelectric projects, which they say are both still in the discussion stage. It was understood the unresolved factors include prices and credit terms.

India's small aluminum industry now produces about 7,000 tons a year. The second five-year plan starting in April calls for boosting production to 30,000 tons. Officials said Russia has offered to supply technicians and machinery to aid the undertaking all along the line.

The hydroelectric project is at Machkund, in Andhra state. Already under construction, it will have a capacity of about 120,000 kilowatts.

The amount of the Soviet proposals was not disclosed, but U. S. engineers estimate expansion of the Machkund project would involve about 20 million dollars. It is believed the aluminum proposal would cost at least that much.

American circles here said these amounts, with about 100 million dollars involved in the Soviet steel mill proposal, would still leave Moscow below the approximately 250 million dollars in aid the United States has given India in the past four years. But these observers believe Russian economic cooperation is accelerating at a rate fast enough to pass the U. S. program.

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP)—Note to Dominic A. Tata of Niagara Falls, N.Y.: That gift you left in Jackson yesterday turned out to be pointless.

As service station attendant K.C. Hankins tells it:

"Tata drove his sputtering car into Hankins' service station, asked for a fountain pen, asked Hankins' name and then signed over the title of the car to him. Tata asked and got a lift to the bus station for himself, his wife and their luggage. Said Hankins later as he polished his car:

"I put a new set of points in the distributor and now it runs like a sewing machine."

Miss Louise Hood Becomes Bride Of Norbert Schuster

Miss Louise Hood, daughter of Mrs. Clarence Hood, Tipton, and Norbert Schuster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Schuster, Pilot Grove, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Father James Steidel at 8:30 o'clock, the morning of Jan. 7, at the St. Andrew's Catholic Church before an altar banked with white pompons and poinsettias.

Edward Hood, Jefferson City, brother of the bride, was soloist with Mrs. Oscar J. Schmidt at the organ. He sang "Ave Maria," "Panis Angelicus," "O Lord I Am Not Worthy," and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Hood, Kansas City, wore a floor length gown with a Chantilly lace bodice and stand up collar, and lace insets in the skirt which was nylon tulle over net over satin. Her fingertip veil was of nylon net. The bride carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Norbert Knipp, Tipton, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Marjorie Schuster, Pilot Grove, sister of the groom, wore gowns of powder blue lace over taffeta, street length, princess style with matching head piece, mitts and shoes. They carried orchids with a Rosary.

James Schuster, Pilot Grove, and Eddie Wolf, Tipton, served the Nuptial Mass. Wilbur Schuster, Pilot Grove, served his brother as best man, and C. William Hood, Fulton, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

Ushers were Marvin and Virgil Schuster, Pilot Grove, brothers of the bridegroom, Andrew Hood, Jefferson City, brother of the bride, and Norbert Knipp, Tipton, brother-in-law of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a light blue dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a dark green two-piece dress with black accessories and a white carnation corsage.

A dinner was served at noon to 75 guests at St. Andrew's Hall with Miss Agnes Wolf, Tipton, in charge of the guest book, and Miss Mary Margaret Knipp, Tipton, in charge of the gifts. Miss Elaine Maria Jarvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dona Jarvis, Little Falls, Minn., and Jack Allgaier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allgaier, Terry Hotel, Sedalia, were wed at eight o'clock, the morning of Jan. 9, at the Holy Innocence Church, St. Louis, with the Rev. Father Rost reading the double ring ceremony, before a background of white floral arrangements.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of white Chantilly lace over white satin with a tiny white satin bolero. The elbow-length veil was attached to a satin half cap decorated with pearls. She carried a white satin covered prayer book topped with two white orchids.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. John Shoemaker, Little Falls, who wore an aqua satin dress with pink accessories. She carried a pink carnation bouquet and her headdress was of tulle and carnations.

Albert Allgaier, Sedalia, served his brother as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a dark blue crepe dress and a pink carnation corsage. The mother of the bridegroom chose a grey nubby tweed suit and wore a pink carnation corsage.

A wedding breakfast was served for the wedding party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cooney in Webster Groves.

For traveling the bride chose a dark blue shantung dress featuring a short cape, and blue accessories. She wore a white orchid corsage. The couple left after the breakfast

Miss Dolanna Mabry Becomes Bride of Lloyd M. Lane, Jr.

Miss Dolanna Mabry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Mabry, 1802 South Quincy, became the bride of Lloyd M. Lane, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd M. Lane, Sr., 223 East Booneville, the evening of December 26 at 6:30 p.m. at the East Sedalia Baptist parsonage with the Rev. Boyd Eldridge officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a street-length dress of white wool jersey fashioned with a tucked bodice, three-quarter length sleeves, and a full gathered skirt. Her hat was of white wool felt with jeweled trim and her shoes and bag were brocade. Her corsage was of red carnations.

Mrs. Merlyn McCown, friend of the bride, was her only attendant. She wore a winter white wool dress with navy accessories and a red carnation corsage.

Merlyn McCown, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table which was covered with a white damask cloth, was centered with a three-tiered cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Mrs. Cleo Orey, cousin of the bride, and Miss Barbara Mabry, sister of the bride, served.

The couple left following the reception for an undisclosed destination.

The bride is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School, class of 1955. She is employed by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. The bridegroom is a graduate

Betty A. Lumpe, K. Kammeyer Exchange Vows

Miss Betty Ann Lumpe, Kansas City, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Lumpe, Warsaw, became the bride of Kenneth F. Kammeyer, son of Mrs. Fred Kammeyer, Alma, in a double ring ceremony the evening of January 6 at the Trinity Lutheran Church, Alma, with the Rev. A. F. C. Pfatenhaver officiating. Woodward fern arrangements and cathedral candleabra entwined with lemon leaves decorated the church.

W. Beyerlein, organist, Alma, played a selection of wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street length gown of metallic taffeta overlaid with beige lace, featuring a scoop neckline, fitted bodice and flared skirt. A brown sequin halo hat held the short veil. She carried a handkerchief of her grandmothers, and a white Bible topped with an arrangement of brown cymbidium orchids. She wore a gold necklace and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Jerry Lumpe, Warsaw, sister-in-law of the bride, wearing a copper colored street length dress of crystalline with long torso, scoop neckline and flared skirt, served as matron of honor. She wore a beige sequin halo hat and carried a crescent cascade bouquet of yellow harvest moon carnations.

Ellis Kammeyer, Kansas City, served as best man.

The bride's mother wore a toast-colored dress with beige accessories, and a corsage of golden rapture roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy dress and accessories, and a corsage of golden rapture roses.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the church basement for members of the immediate families and close friends. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom and was wreathed with leaf fern. Crystal candleabra to either side were garlanded with white chrysanthemums. Mrs. Gary Boltis, Kansas City, Mrs. Mark Adams, Alma, Mrs. Oswald Gershefke, Alma, and Mrs. William Westbrook, Marshall, served at the bride's table. Miss Mary Jane Keltner, Kansas City, was in charge of the guest book.

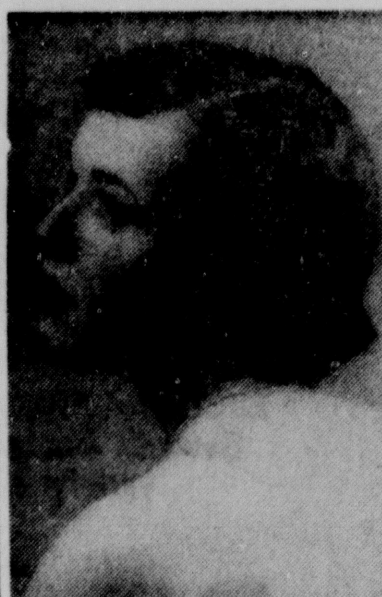

For traveling, the bride chose a powder blue suit with brown accessories and a corsage of brown orchids. The couple now live in Alma.

The bride is a graduate of the Warsaw High School and was employed by Commerce Trust Co. in Kansas City.

The bridegroom is employed at Porter Chevrolet, Higginsville.

Leaton's room received the pennant last month.

At the next meeting, Jan. 24th, the Sedalia Men's Choral Club will present a musical program. Refreshments were served in the home economics room.

Millicent Hale Honored With Bridal Shower

A bridal shower was given for Miss Millicent Hale at the home of Mrs. C. L. Carter, 700 South Beacon, Monday evening, Jan. 9, with Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, Mrs. P. L. Strole and Mrs. W. H. Eichholz as assisting hostesses.

At 7:30 sandwiches and coffee were served at individual tables gaily decorated with antique colored glassware. Favors were tiny parasols with a tag attached by a ribbon announcing: "Mimi and Andy, Jan. 14, 1956."

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth and was arranged with gift packages under a colorful parasol. There were 31 pieces of aqua Ballerina dinnerware disguised in various sizes of unusual decorative packages, each one wrapped in a different bridal paper and adorned with a bride's bouquet, a rose ribbon corsage and artistic bows. On the buffet was an arrangement of spring flowers in a bowl of the dinnerware which was presented to the bride by Mrs. Carter.

Throughout the evening flash pictures were taken of the guests. Games were played with prizes going to Mrs. Neal Reyburn, for first and Miss Margaret Ferguson and Miss Hale tied for second.

At intervals as the games were played Miss Hale was presented with a gift by whoever happened to be the winner at that particular time in the game.

Those present were Miss Hale, her mother, Mrs. Leslie Hale, Miss Wanda White, Mrs. Raymond Warbritton, Mrs. C. A. Wright, Mrs. Neal Reyburn, Mrs. Edward Snavely, Mrs. J. A. Bloss, Mrs. E. W. Goetz, Miss Margaret Ferguson, Mrs. A. A. Ferguson, Mrs. W. A. Eichholz, Mrs. P. L. Strole and Mrs. C. L. Carter.

Others who were unable to be present sent gifts.

The party was given by neighbors of Miss Hale and all the guests were also neighbors.

Community Club Holds January Meeting

The Smithton Community Club held its regular meeting in the lobby of the Holtzen-Siegel Clinic Jan. 10. William Erling, president, conducted the meeting. The secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Grupe, read the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer, Mrs. Della Hochms reported on the finances. The club has contributed over $500 to the Smithton Community Fire Truck Association during the past year.

It was decided to continue the paper drive, with papers to be picked up by different members in cars every two weeks. One of the projects just completed by the club is a community bulletin board. This was made by the Rev. William Butts and placed in the post office lobby to be used by the clubs, churches, schools and other organizations to advertise events of community interest.

The club plans to have a community sale and a chili supper on the evening of Feb. 29.

May Rate As Controversial Movie Star

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 14 (AP)—Deborah Kerr, once Metro's darling of decorum, may rate as the screen's most controversial actress before the year is over.

One of the screen's great beauties and one of its great ladies, Deborah has two pictures coming up that have caused a storm of controversy even before production is launched.

The first is "Tea and Sympathy," the frank tale of alleged unnatural relationships in a boy's boarding school. She will play the role of the headmaster's wife, the same role that she created on Broadway.

How can such a story be converted to comply with the screen's rigid moral code?

"Beautifully," answers the carrot-topped Deborah. "Essentially, it is the story of a boy who is different from the herd. He likes flowers for instance, instead of football."

"This, as every mother of a teen-aged boy knows, can be a tragic situation. The camera will allow this theme to be developed more thoroughly than it was on the stage."

There will be one important change in the movie script: the other boys will label the lone boy a sissy instead of a homosexual.

The other controversial film will be "Heaven Knows, Mr. Allison" in which Deborah will play a nun marooned on a desert island with a Marine.

"On the surface," admits Deborah, "this is a highly explosive premise but the script is so beautifully done that no one will be offended. It is a situation that brings out the finest virtues in the Marine in his protection of the nun who is helplessly cast in such an improbable predicament."

The part of the Marine hasn't been cast yet but Deborah believes the part calls for a Bill Holden—and he wants to do it.

Deborah probably would be still pouring tea in Metro drawing room dramas had not she played the easy-to-woo officer's wife in "From Here to Eternity."

Contrary to popular notion, she did not campaign personally for the role that has zoomed her career.

"I didn't even think I could do it," she discloses. "I had floated along in so many lady roles that I began to believe I couldn't act any more."

She said it took her a long time to get riled about the way her career was going but finally:

"I called up Bert Allenberg (an agent) and told him I would change over to him if he could get me out of the lady rut. He said he would pitch me for the role of the wife in 'Eternity.'"

"I shuddered. Who would ever think of me as that woman?" Allenberg reported back that he had seen Harry Cohn, boss of Columbia, about Deborah.

"He said Cohn had thrown him out of the office but he was still optimistic."

Two days later, she said, the deal was closed.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Jack Entratter, one of the owners of the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, was in town this week and gave a reporter some figures that help explain why some of the newer hotels have folded in the plush resort.

"They all opened too close together," reports Entratter. "Had they been spaced one year, all would be rolling merrily now."

"When a new casino opens, all the big money players give it a courtesy fling. Sometimes the house can break even with such an assault but usually it takes six months to get even from such a display of courtesy."

Entratter said the Sands, open three years, has used 286,000 dice

James Dean who unanimously won the hearts of America and was chosen the top star of the year in the recent theatre Audience Award poll is seen here being caught in a teenage war in "Rebel Without a Cause," the challenging drama of today's teen-age violence, now showing at the Uptown Theatre.

Tall Texan Is Hired to Take Close Look at Tornadoes

JACKSBORO, Tex., Jan. 14 (AP)—A tall Texan with a history of daring has been hired by the U.S. Weather Bureau to take a very close look at tornadoes.

He is Jim Cook, who has been flying since he was a 13-year-old sheriff's son in Sanderson, west Texas. His work with tornadoes may enable science to unravel their secrets.

By flying with recording instruments into the boiling thunderheads which spawn tornadoes, Cook will give man what he has never had before: exact measurements of wind, air pressure and humidity near the storm itself.

With that information, the Weather Bureau hopes to improve its warning system and advance man's knowledge of tornadoes with one long leap.

The broad-shouldered Cook, a part-time rancher, will fly his own 400-mile-an-hour F51, the Mustang fighter of World War II. He will be paid $45,000 for 300 hours of flying.

That looks like $150 an hour until you take into account that Jim is providing a $30,000 plane and paying all operating expenses.

Anyway, you could quadruple the figure without coaxing many competent pilots to fly near a tornado. And, at 34, Jim is competent, a lifelong flier who got his commercial license when he was a teen-ager.

His training ground for tornado chasing was the Nebraska Panhandle. For the past three years he was a "hail suppressor" there, and no place in the world has such frequent and vicious hailstorms as the Nebraska Panhandle.

His mission was to fly headon into the ugliest storms before they could spew their hail into the intensely cultivated North Platte Valley near Scottsbluff, Neb. Sugar beet growers say he reduced their hail-damaged acreage by more than half.

Once inside the storm he seeded the clouds with silver iodide crystals, on which moisture collected. The result was many small hailstones which melted before reaching the ground instead of larger, crop-damaging hail.

What little man knows about tornadoes is based on piecemeal information—a good eyewitness description in many cases, a few lucky humidity and air pressure records and sometimes an idea of electrical charges built up in a storm.

"What is needed is to get all these coons up the same tree at the same time," Cook says.

His plane will carry all the instruments needed to tree them simultaneously. Synchronized with the 500 pounds of automatic measuring instruments and also recorded will be Jim's story of what he sees, spoken into a microphone inside his oxygen mask.

There will be four cameras. A vortex thermometer will record temperature changes, and a radio altimeter will show at what height the various recordings are made. A sensitive device—an infrared hygrometer developed in the Weather Bureau's own instrument division—will measure humidity.

Cook's tornado chasing will be under the direction and control of the Severe Local Storm Center at Kansas City—pronounced "Sells" for short by pilots and weather-men.

"I won't fly into tornadoes, of course, nor even fly directly toward them as I approach," Cook said. "I intend to keep getting closer and closer, until I get to where I know the winds are too much, so I can get away fast if I hit severe turbulence."

His main goal will be to gather, with his instruments, all the temperature, moisture, wind and other data he can—at varying levels—before, after and during tornadoes.

At a cost of $1.25 a pair and 65,200 decks of expensive cards.

Total operational expense of the Sands for the three years has been $26,281,000. It cost, for instance, $115,000 to give away free cigars and cigarettes to gamblers plus $1,215,000 in licenses and gaming permits.

Most employees get free meals. The Sands has served 1,080,000 such free meals.

Just Doesn't Give a Hoot About Clothes

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It may surprise you that Claudette Colbert doesn't give a hoot about clothes.

This despite the fact that she has long been one of the screen's best dressers. You can see her tonight in four fetching outfits as she costars in CBS' "Blithe Spirit" with Noel Coward and Lauren Bacall.

"Oh, you should know the trouble I've had over those four dresses," signed Claudette at a luncheon on the veranda of her Holmby Hills home. "Nothing but fittings, fittings, fittings. It drives me nuts. When I think of the amount of time I have spent in my lifetime over clothes!"

"It simply isn't that important to me. Clothes never have been. If I had to spend as much time on them in my personal life as some women do, I'd go to Tahiti and wear a Mother Hubbard."

Fancy duds are important to Claudette professionally, but she maintains a slimmer closet than a lot of the other glamor girls. "I don't have nearly as many clothes as a lot of producers' wives," she remarked. "If I have any reputation as a dresser, it is for conservative clothes. I think it's smarter to avoid the high fashion. Unless there is a sweeping change in style, you can usually wear a dress for five years or more. And I often do."

She said she owns about eight evening gowns and an equal number of cocktail dresses. She rotates them and cares not a whit if friends recognize them — "you can't be expected to have a new dress for every occasion."

You can understand why she buys them and keeps them. An evening gown can run from $800 to $1,000. Her favorite designer was Adrian, who is now retired from feminine fashions (he designs only men's ties and shirts now).

Now she favors Mainbocher in New York and Balmain and Dior in Paris.

Claudette is winding up her CBS contract with "Blithe Spirit" and vows she won't sign a long-termer again. She likes TV, but wants to call her own shots.

Stray Dog, Thin Dime Causes a Big Fuss

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A stray dog and a thin dime have caused an almighty fuss across New York State.

Seems a toll collector at a State Thruway interchange at Canandaigua noticed a mutt moping around yesterday. Deputy Alan F. Johnston responded to the call and picked up the dog. Four miles down the highway Johnston refused to pay a ten cents toll. What about line of duty?

Toll collectors summoned a state trooper. Johnston dug deep.

Thruway headquarters now says it was all a mistake. Thruway police, not the sheriff's office, should have been summoned for the dog.

Johnston will get back his dime. And the honor may go to the toll collector who called the sheriff's office.

Spanish Ambassador Decides Really To Impress People

WASHINGTON—Party goers in this town thought they'd had everything in the way of lavish and unusual entertaining, wining, dining and dancing in elegant private homes of famed wealthy hostesses, and in beautiful embassies of foreign envoys. They expected splendor and got it. Now they are savoring a new type of spectacular with an extra-vagant Spanish flavor.

The Spanish ambassador and his chic wife, the Countess of Morico whose recent coming-out ball for their slender dark-eyed debutante daughter, Mercedes, is still the talk of the town, are really going all out to impress people, as well as to make friends.

The handsome and wealthy couple, descended from two of Spain's oldest noble families, began preparations for their role as the diplomatic corps' No. 1 hosts soon after their arrival a year ago when they had the somewhat rundown embassy on 16th street completely overhauled and redecorated.

None less than the Archduke Franz Josef and his wife, Princess Martha, did the exquisite redecoration of the handsome embassy, which now boasts the only sizable private ballroom in town. The archduke, a descendant of the Bourbon line and relative of ex-King Alfonso, explained he did the job "for Spain."

Such was the elegance in the new sumptuous setting in which guests found themselves at Mercedes' debutante ball, they almost had to pinch themselves to be sure they were in 1956 instead of being back at an 18th century shindig in a Spanish royal palace.

The sambas and rumbas of the eight-piece orchestra imported from a New York night club brought them to.

The ambassador received his guests in a richly gold-embroidered dress uniform. His blonde wife in briefly-trained Dior gown of jewel-encrusting pink satin, wore a diamond tiara and blinding necklace of diamonds and sapphires. Mercedes, in white tulle and Spanish lace, was escorted by Prince Sanseverino of the Italian Embassy in scarlet-tunic dress uniform of the Knights of Malta.

These joined, by six other diplomatic couples, the men all in military, or diplomatic uniforms, led off the evening with a stately 18th century quadrille, called "El Rigodon." This was followed by dancing by all the guests. At midnight there was a splendid buffet.

Champagne flowed abundantly. Later professional flamenco dancers and guitarists entertained in the patio where real oranges had been tied individually to magnolia bushes. Standing on a chair in the gold and white crystal-chandeliered ballroom, the better to see the glamorous spectacle was Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth.

Sitting together on the sidelines, all handsomely gowned in white and wearing their most extravagant jewels, were famed hostesses Perle Mesta, Mrs. Merriweather Post and Mrs. Wiley Buchanan, wife of the U.S. ambassador to Luxembourg. The season's most glamorous clambake broke up after a breakfast was served at 6 a.m. according to die-hards who stuck it out.

Korean Army Grows Have Snack Anyway

SEOUL (AP)—Defense Minister Sohn Won Il today said South Korea's 20-division army of 600,000 men plus 10 reserve divisions "is now better than ever and it will be the world's third strongest army if equipped with more powerful weapons."

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (AP)—Prisoners in city jail can cook light snacks again—even if it smells. The City Council yesterday reversed an order banning use of a heating stove because of complaints about odors arising from prisoners' culinary efforts.

Men Have Replaced Women As Frantic Bargain Hunters

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Ladies, if you want a real belly laugh, I know how you can get it.

Men's clothing stores across the country now are featuring their semi-annual sales. Go to a few. They hold more real comedy than any show in town.

You don't have to buy anything. Just stand around and watch.

For generations the conduct of women at department store sales has been a stock joke in America. They are supposed to be as unreasoning as a herd of cattle in stampede. But today the shoe is on the other foot. If the woman bargain hunter is a scream, the male bargain hunter is an absolute panic.

And the American man is more bargain-minded now than ever before in history.

"Frankly, men act much crazier than women during a big sale," an elderly salesman said. "They are newer at the game and don't know the rules. A lot of them will be ashamed to have their psychiatrists see the way they behave."

Any lady who takes up watching men's clothing sales as a spectator sport should remember to keep a safe distance away. A tug-of-war for a prized shirt between two maddened bucks can be physically dangerous to any bystander, however innocent.

The male bargain hunter breaks down into several common types, and here are a few:

1. The pirate raider—he is ruled by the philosophy that "whatever Lola wants, Lola gets." He waits until another customer picks out a good-looking necktie, then grabs it from his hand, throws down his cash and races for the elevator.

2. The lost soul—he never bought anything before in his life without the advice and consent of his mother, his father, his wife or his lawyer. He stands alone, his eyes crying help, while the big bullies shove him out of the way. He ends up buying an overcoat the color of a mildewed fried egg (two sizes too large for him) and goes out the door murmuring to himself, "But all I wanted was a pair of knitted gloves."

3. The wandering destroyer—he paws through and wrecks eight shelves of shirts, paws a dozen neckties off the rack and onto the floor, paws half a dozen sports coats on and off, then, without purchasing anything, he wades out of the wreckage waving a merry paw in goodbye. He enjoys himself more than anybody.

4. The cautious investor—he begins by fingering the $200 cashmere polo coats marked down to $149.50. He wants to know the name of the manufacturer and whether the manufacturer is happily married. He wants to know what country the cloth came from and the condition of its economy. He finally offers $99.50 for the coat, and when that offer is refused buys a four-bit handkerchief and leaves, blowing his nose in indignation.

5. The lord of the manor—this crisp fellow snaps his fingers imperiously at the salesman, demands the best of service—and for some reason gets it. Awed members of the herd stand aside as he tries on half a dozen suits, loudly criticizing the cut, color and cloth of each. He winds up by taking a 95-cent pair of socks and walks out with the lordly air of a man who has just bought a yacht.

6. The gay spendthrift—this cheerful madman seems to be the salesman's best friend, but actually is his worst enemy. He likes anything and everything he sees. He selects a dozen shirts, three suits, two sport jackets, a couple of topcoats, and several pairs of shoes. The bill doesn't worry him. Why should it? Next Monday his wife will send every single thing back to the store.

Girls, don't miss the chance to see the American male at a men's bargain sale. It's your best bargain in entertainment. All it will cost you is the price of the zipper on your girdle. You'll bust it laughing.

Branch Office Moves Out All of the Records

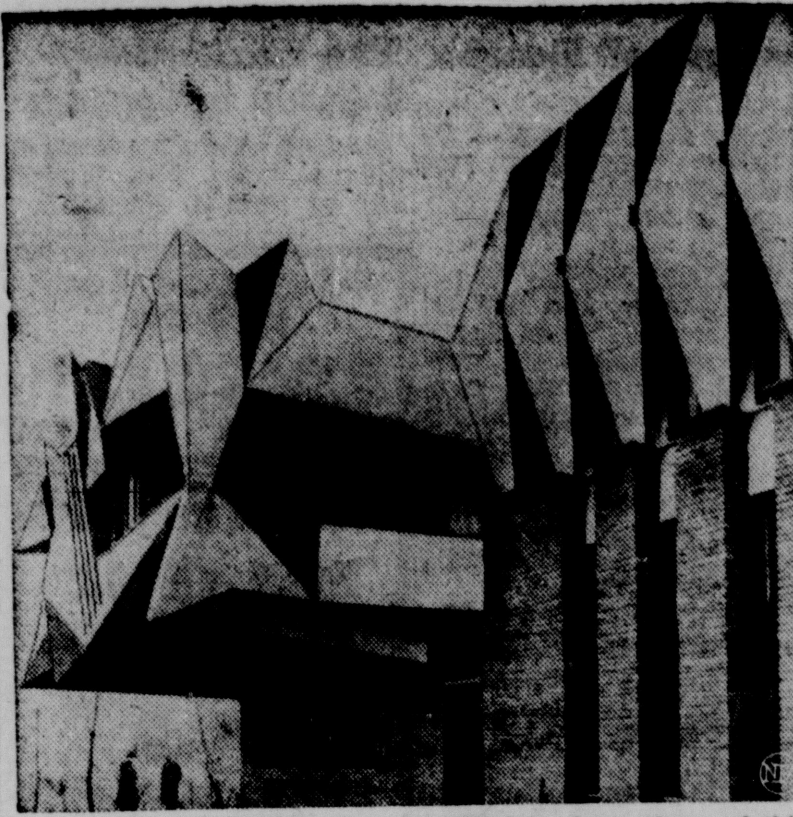

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—State investigators yesterday opened up the branch office of the defunct U.S. Trust and Guaranty Co. for an inspection.

They wanted to be sure that branch officials had complied with a temporary restraining order forbidding removal of any records of the firm.

They found no records in the empty file cabinet. Securely tucked away in the office safe was a copy of the restraining order.

Pledge Social Sorority

Miss Carolyn Del Napier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Napier, 211 East Saline, and Miss Janet Lou Ragar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil B. Ragar, 1319 South Barrett, were formally pledged to Psi Chapter of Delta Sigma Epsilon social sorority Jan. 11 at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg. Miss Napier is majoring in secretarial science, and Miss Ragar in business.

MARK OF TRIUMPH—There's method in the madness of this ultrafuturistic house in Turin, Italy. The architect, Enzo Venturi, calls the startling projecting balcony at left, "Chaos." The right wing of the house, which has no balcony, is supposed to represent "the triumph of Reason over Chaos." Home belongs to Italian sculptor Umberto Boccioni.

American Red Cross Plans Record Goal

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Red Cross plans a record peacetime appeal for 90 million dollars this year because of hurricane and flood disasters of the past six months.

Red Cross National Chairman E. Roland Harriman said yesterday the disasters caused the organization to spend more than 27 million dollars on emergency relief and long-range assistance to families and small businesses.

Harriman said this was four or five times the amount spent in an average disaster year and added: "We now have less than a million dollars to cope with disaster work this spring and summer."

At present, he said, 11,000 families and small businesses are being assisted in the wake of recent floods in the far west.

Lincoln Well Pump Fails In Water Supply

The pump at the Lincoln city well has been checked after failing to draw the usual amount of water for city and rural use and an opening in a section of the tubing near the bottom of the well was found. A representative of the Layne Western Co., which installed the pump a few years ago, found the leak and work began Tuesday and will be completed in a few more days.

There is no water shortage as an ample supply is available for emergencies.

Returns to Studies

Vincent Youngkamp, who visited his mother, Mrs. Margaret Youngkamp and his brother, John N. Smithton, during the holidays, left Monday for Milton, Mass., where he will resume his studies at St. Columban Major Seminary in Milton. Enroute he visited his sister, Mrs. James J. Kane and family, Cleveland, Ohio.

Has Fabulous History— From High Rock Prince Can View Tiny Realm of Monaco

MONTE CARLO, Monaco, Jan. 14.—The palace of Prince Rainier III stands on a high rock facing the Mediterranean.

There the handsome 32-year-old Prince and his heart's choice, the glamorous Grace Kelly, can survey a tiny Riviera realm with a legendary past built around spinning roulette wheels, but looking forward to a future built on more secure business foundations.

The country offers relative freedom from taxation and cares in a balmy, romantic atmosphere. A postwar influx of corporations has created a housing shortage.

Prince Rainier, a modern ruler with a penchant for sport cars and yachting, is No. 30 in the line of the Grimaldi family that has ruled Monaco's 370 acres about 700 years. The family's origins were in Genoa.

Miss Kelly is marrying the last of the absolute monarchs in Europe. Through the 26-year-old actress the Monacans fervently hope the dynasty will be perpetuated with a male heir.

Her palace home-to-be was started as a fortress in 1215. Its four big towers are a reminder of its historic purpose. They contrast with the peppermint stick red and white striped awnings on the palace windows. Red and white are Monaco's national colors.

Successive princes down through the centuries have transformed, beautified and modernized the palace. It was pillaged during the French Revolution, but completely restored later.

But to most people it is the gambling casino and not the palace that they think of when they hear the word Monte Carlo.

For this development they can thank a forebear of Rainier—Prince Charles III. He was a man who loved to travel. During his journeys he visited Baden-Baden and Hamburg, Germany, where gambling was a big attraction. Prince Charles was also a man who could figure. He calculated the income that the local rulers must be taking from the casinos, and asked himself: "Why not for Monaco?"

Charles found it wasn't easy to establish a casino on a profit-taking basis. His went broke three times before it could get under way. But once it got rolling, breaking the bank at Monte Carlo was only a wishful song.

Francois Blanc, who had been operating the Bad Homburg Casino, was the man who got it on a paying basis. Prince Charles summoned Blanc, who hoped to organize the Sea Bathers and Foreigners Club of Monaco Inc. in 1861. Still in operation, this corporation owns several big hotels—and the gambling concession until 1975.

Blanc used part of the corporation's capital to build roads and make it easier to get to Monaco.

The warm Mediterranean sunshine, the flower-covered countryside and the urge to gamble on the part of the wandering high society of the day did the rest.

Profits poured into the treasury of Monaco at such a rate that Prince Charles abolished all direct taxes in 1869.

In 1871 the casino counted 150,000 visitors and by 1910 it was crawling with a half million.

Europe's glittering society converged on Monte Carlo in the winter season. Royalty rubbed shoulders with famous theatrical figures and just the ordinary wealthy at the gaming tables.

The Russian ballet danced in a theater annex to the present day casino, which was finished in 1885. Stories of gambling successes—and failures marked by suicides—

Clerk Picks Wrong Horse in Contest

LONDON (AP)—Michael Ross, 21, picked the wrong horse last night and it cost him 992 pounds ($2,777.60).

Ross, a statistical clerk for an outfit that buys and breeds thoroughbred horses, didn't take his loss at the track. He was the first contestant to try for the 1,024 pound ($2,867.20) jackpot on Britain's Double-Your-Money television quiz program.

Ross was asked to name the sire, dam and grandparents of Eclipse, whose descendants have won more than 100 Epsom Derbys. He got everything right but the dam's name—Mother Western. Ross said Charming Jenny, and wound up with 32 pounds ($89.60) consolation money.

became a part of the Monte Carlo legend.

In the days just before World War I an actress known as The Beautiful Otero won eight billion gold francs—then two million dollars in a single night. In late years the casino has not prospered so well.

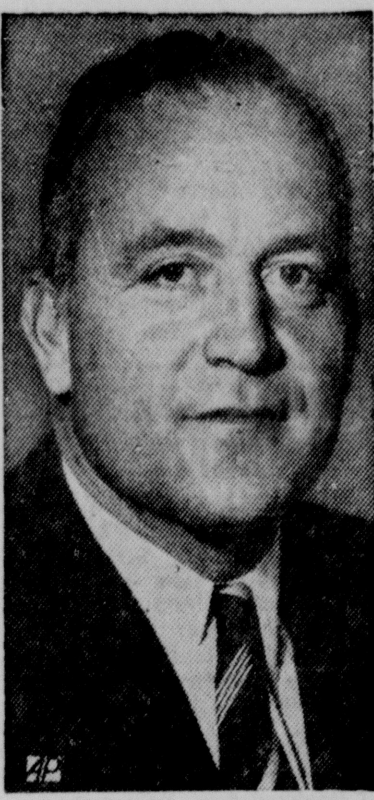

Nearby French cities on the Riviera have opened up their own casinos, ending the Monaco monopoly.

Back in the roaring twenties Monaco could count on casino profits covering most of the local budget. Today it only takes care of a bare 10 per cent of the billion franc 2,857,140 budget.

There are still no direct taxes on anyone who has lived and worked here for five years, and this is a great attraction.

Truckers Awarded Damage Suit Money

JACKSON, Tenn., (AP)—A federal court jury yesterday awarded $7,000 damages to two Missouri truck drivers who said they were pistol-whipped by two Tennessee farmers.

Lowell Goins and Ray McGee, both of Sikeston, Mo., said the farmers accused them of "trying to steal our Negroes." The truckers were hired last Sept. 15 to move several Negro farm families from Lake County in northwest Tennessee to Missouri.

Their suit was against A. G. Hargues and Jim McClain of near Ridgely, Tenn. The jury awarded each trucker $3,500.
